Renee Jones, Sandy Manini, Nels Fiksdal, Kristy Potter and Audrey Pobre spent their summer in the "General Store" at UCSB. "We were cutting up the rug and taking in the rays."

The Varsity Songirls put some "pizazz" in their lives by taking pictures throughout their stay at Stanford.

Sunset on the wet sand, footprints on the beach, hand in hand towards the crashing waves, and the memories began... What comes to mind? Summer vacation meant all of this and more, but most of all it meant taking a break!

Personally, I enjoyed spending my summer with my best friends! It was a time for parties, graduation, jobs, new relationships, and vacationing across the world!

Students at GHS spent their summer working hard on the football field, in summer school, on the tennis courts, in the swimming pool, or at camps they were putting their 'Grizzly Pride' to work!

The 'elite' students spent their summer vacation working hard to make the school year of '86-'87 an 'Outrageous' year! With the support of our teachers, administrators, and students the year of '87 was filled with enrichment.

The Gunderson students were 'Back by Popular Demand.' -Audery Pobre

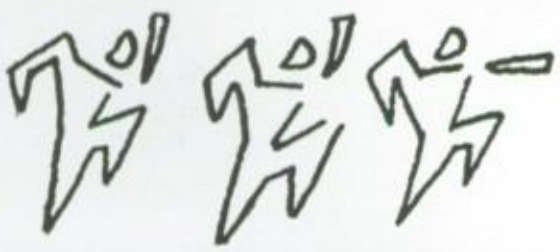
Yes, Molly Ringwald was part of our 'elite' students at Leadership Camp.

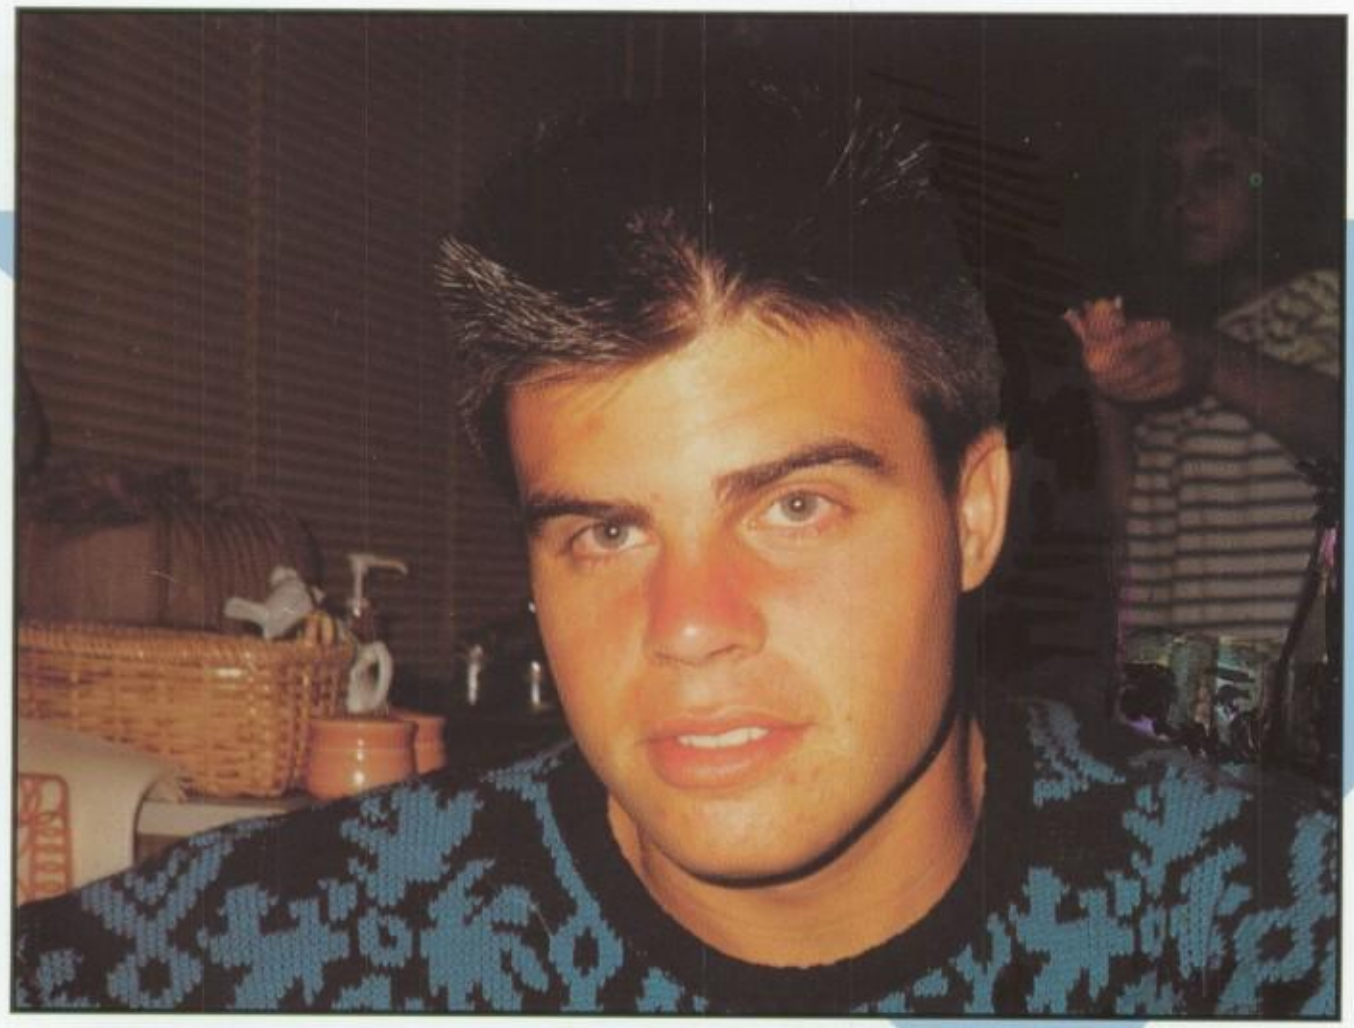
Weekend Fever!

Catchit

David Gonzales

What do you do on the weekend? Do you look forward to party hopping on Friday or Saturday nights? Or do you prefer the quiet life? Some students treat weekends as an R&R (Rest and Reprieve) as other students favor the wild, crazy life of partying and having an outragious time with their friends. When the night has come to an end, one commen thought ponders in these students' heads as they venture home. "I hope I can stand up in front of my parents!" This question becomes more intense as the situation becomes more of a reality. Intellectual students spend their weekend reading books and doing homework, as they have many educational goals to meet. Most students have a job that kills time. This keeps them busy and also puts money in their pocket. A few romantics, couples, and friendly dates cruise to the beach to cuddle, or watch a movie for fun. I bet you're wondering what freshmen do on Friday and Saturday nights. Well, they stay home, watch T.V. and look forward to another week of school.





PURE SPIRIT ENERGY

Purpose: Most things usually have a purpose behind them. Well, Spirit week is not any different. Yes, Grizzlies, there really is a purpose for Spirit Week. Perhaps the main reason and most important is for everyone at Gunderson was have fun, five days of outrageous fun! That's the mood everyone was striving for. It was a time in which getting prepared for Homecoming was one of the biggest thing on everyone's mind. It was the one week out of the year set aside to put all energy into promoting school spirit. Everyone got into the spirit. Monday was for all the 'beach bums.' Tuesday was the 'ski' slopes for most. Wednesday, Gunderson was swamped with tourists. And Thursday nothing was the same with role-reversal day. Dressing up for these days wasn't the only thing that happened. There were rallies during lunch as well. Monday, felt like being at the beach while playing vollyball in the plaza. Tuesday was a race to the slopes, with a relay race during lunch. On Wednesday, a game of Simon Says was played. Finally Thursday, Gunderson hosted its very first dating game. Friday wrapped up the whole week with everyone showing their Grizzly pride by wearing... you guessed it , Brown and Gold! Now that's purpose for you! -Ronni Price

10th ANNIVERSARY

Gunderson's 10th Anniversary Homecoming Night was a huge success. People picked up their dates in a wide range of attire and vehicles from limosines and suits to Volkswagens and jeans. After dinner,which ranged from dining at LaForet to backyard barbecuing, the couples began to arrive at the dance. The gym's decorations were outstanding from the years past. 'Third Dimenson' provided the sound and entertainment with three video screens and great dancing music. The crash posters provided decoration for the back wall. 'Stand By Me' was the theme song and the colors were Brown and Gold in honor of the10th Annual Homecoming. The dance was from 8:00-11:00, but people were still arriving at 9:30. Then it was time to introduce the Homecomeing royalty. The Freshman princess and prince were Kerri Santos and Matt Salmon,the Sophomores were Heather Culcasi and Mark Eaton,the Juniors were Kristin Olson and Scott Kilgore, and the Seinors were Tina Zapata and Phil Burnett. The Homecoming King and Queen were Ryan Turner and Carol Aliva. They all looked beautiful. Because the students put so much time and effort into the special ocasion,it had more meaning; especially because the Grizzlies always 'Stand By each other!' -Heather Heberling

An Anniversery of Excellence!

It was the perfect day for a Homecoming. The weather was fresh and brisk. It was chilly but not freezing; and thank God it wasn't raining!

The stands were already beginning to fill with excited fans who were anticipating the outcome of today during the JV game and by the time the Varsity game started, there wasn't a seat to be found. You see, this was a Homecoming different from any others! This was a special Homecoming. It was our 10th annual Homecoming and there was almost 25 alumni cheerleaders to remind us of the previous years.

After the JV game in which our grizzlies played tough the parade began. All of the floats were wonderful. The freshman float won first place and it was gorgeous. The auto club guys, led by Frank Matos, kept the crowd going when they passed in their car which had been painted to be a float. Everyone was overjoyed when they started throwing candy then they disappear in a cloud of dust.

"That will be one hundred and forty-nine dollars."

"Oh that's okay. Charge it, mom wants me to have the best. Maybe, I should get a skirt too.

"Mindless conformist oblivious to all immaterial expressions."

"Mom will love this skirt."

"Mike will love this skirt."

To be considered avante garde."

"Maybe I should get red."

"But is that the answer for their meaningless insecurities?"

"Oh no, Janey loves blue one me. But, Chelsey thinks I look hot in mauve. I think I'm getting a headache."

"Ya know, I really don't care. They pay my check... I wish she'd just buy it... I get the feeling that they haven't even thought about it."

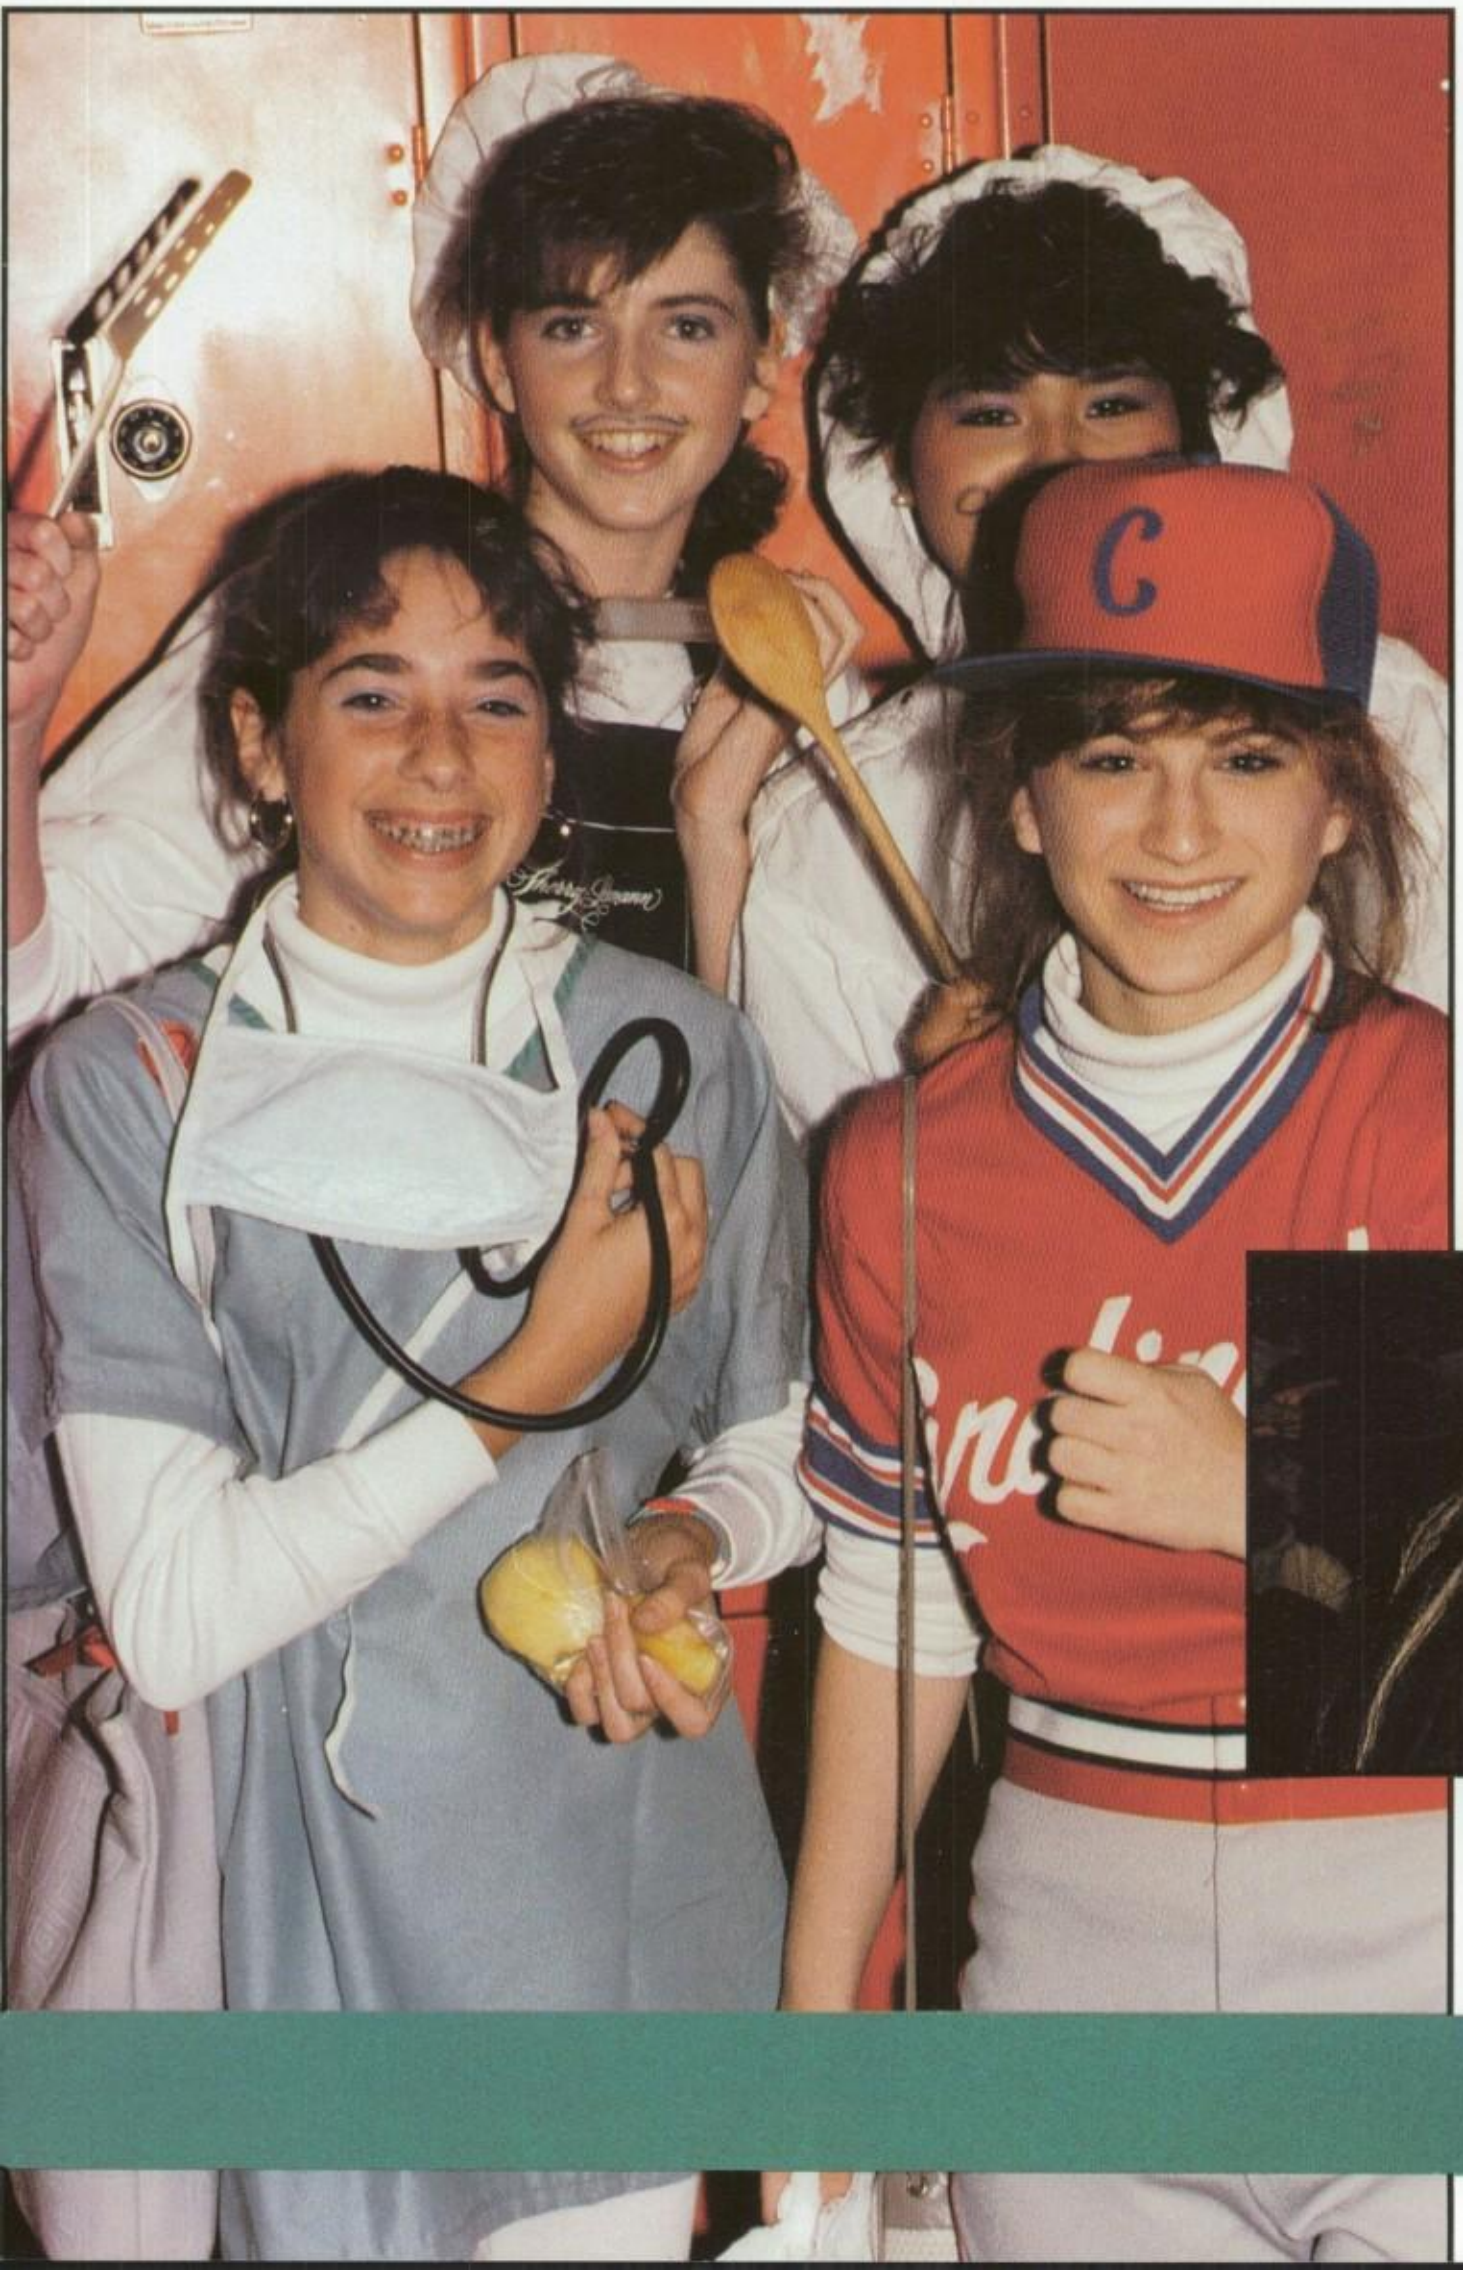
HAPPY HALLOWEEN GRIZZLIES

What does Halloween mean to you? To some students it means cavities. To others, just another festive day. As usual the Grizzlies come on full force to gave a blast. The cafeteria staff once again led the way on the eleventh annual parade during fourth period. Traditional witches, ghosts, and goblins were seen during the day along with the outrageous costumes, some a little too outrageous to be viewed by our underclass audiences. Over all there was good participation with a majority of the student body dressing up as someone or something. This year's spooky holiday was one big party! -Joe Quirk

This Motley Crew wishes you a happy Halloween too.



Linda Plato are you a chief, a baker, or a candle stick maker?

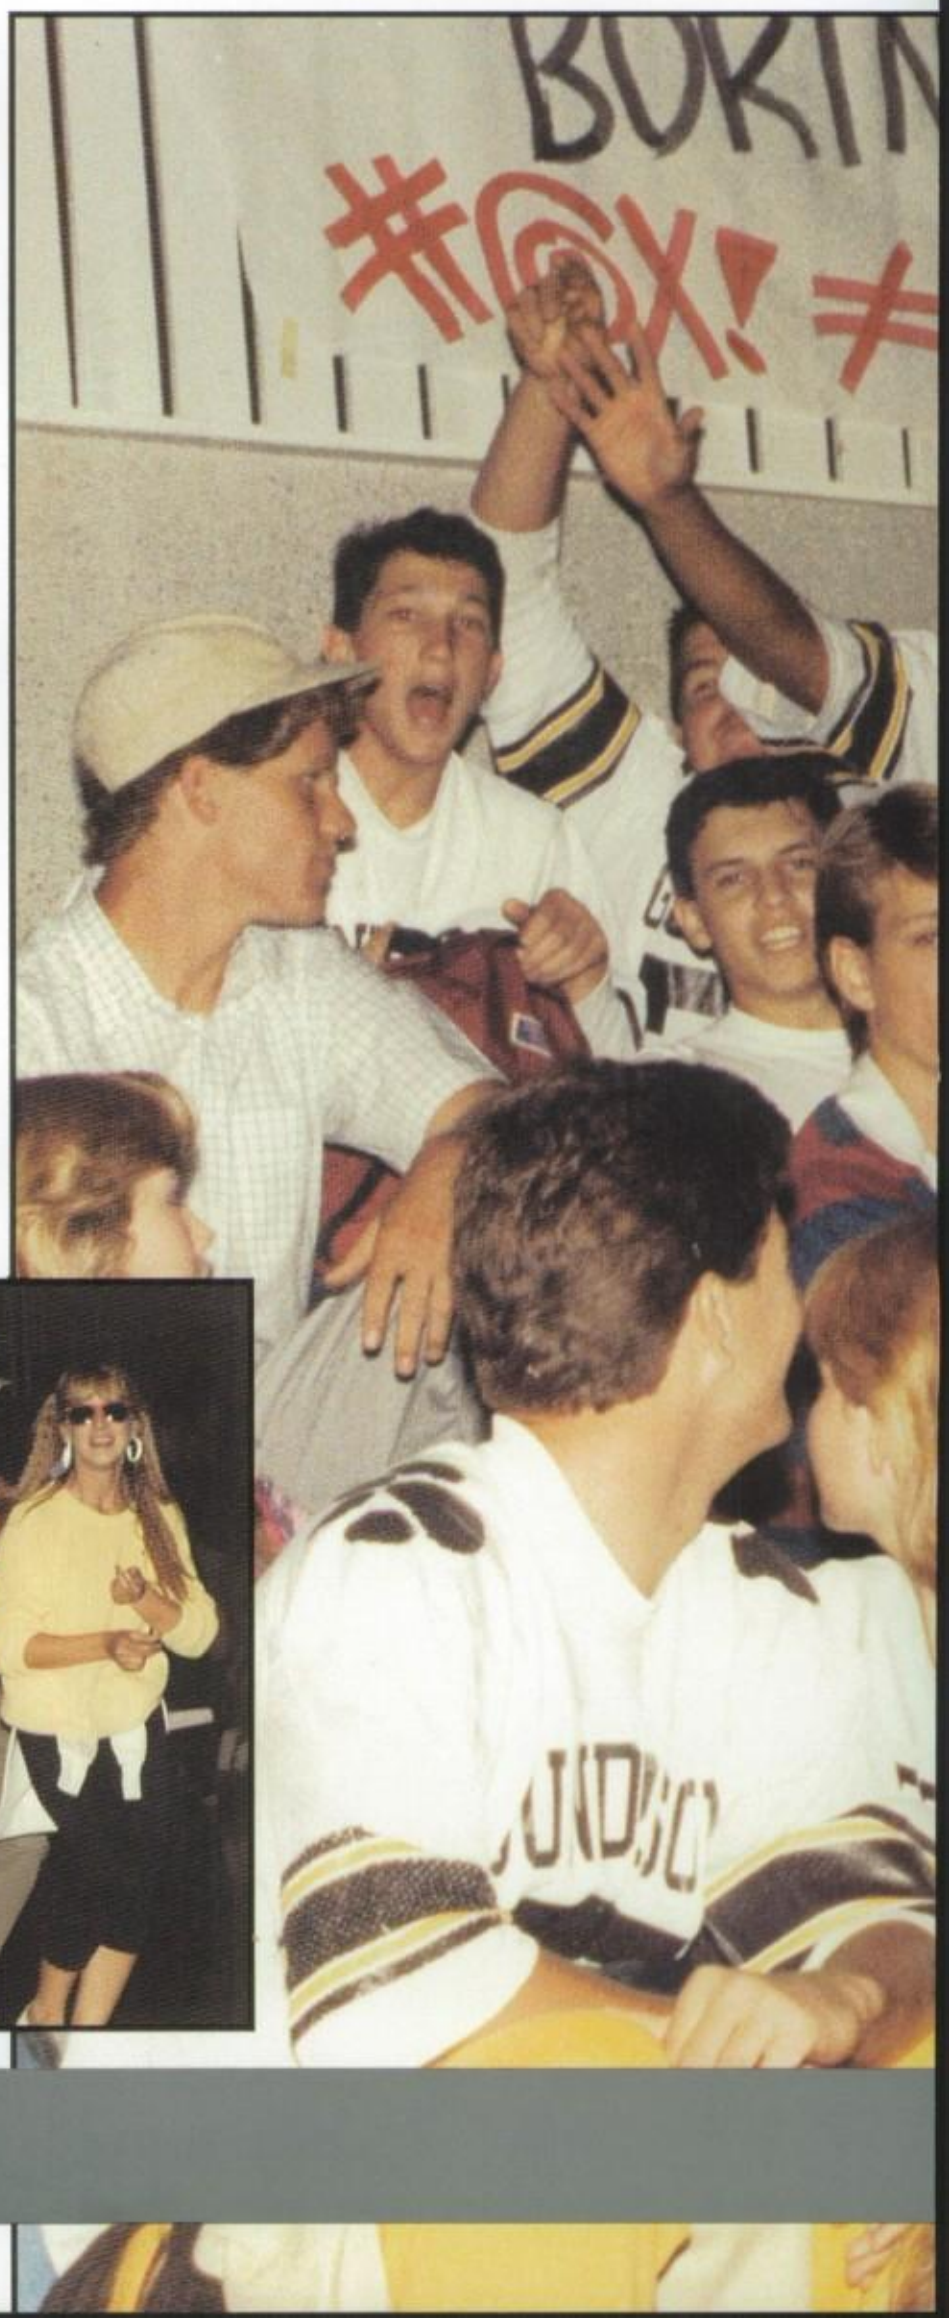
THE CROWDS WENT BANZAI AT THE RALLIES!

"Banzai" What does it mean? "Seniors,Juniors ooh,aah!" Sound familiar? Well,that was YOU yelling your brains out at the rallies! What about "Sophomores,Freshmen-ooh aah?" Well, underclassmen displayed their Grizzly pride by dressing-up in their funkiest costumes and snappiest get-ups. The Halloween rally turned out to be a show of originality and uniqueness when it came to costume design. Later on, Seniors threw a Christmas shindig while they decorated their annual tree. The year was stuffed with successful pep rallies that led to all those famous "Grizzly Victories."
Rallies were a chance for all Grizzly faithfulls to show our team that they were behind them one-hundred percent. As a result, the Varsity Football team blasted their way to the CCS play-offs and Junior Varsity wrapped up the season with a bundle of unforgettable wins. Rallies proved to be the root of school spirit. It has proved time and time again that pride and spirit is what Gunderson is made of -Kerri Santos

"Senior, Juniors ...ooh, aah!"



"Oh, what a feeling!!"

"Us?? Boring?!!"

PARK IT!

How do you get around? Well,the students from GHS made sure they had some form of transportation to keep them on the go! Whether it was by bus, car, bike, moped, or their own two feet, restless Grizzlies were never "still" for long! (Especially on the Weekends) Although many unfortunate students (Freshmen) did not have the use of their own cars, ect., they got around through friends who did, and GRIZZLY SPIRIT stayed alive!

"Will this be all for you?" says Helen De La Cruz happy at work in the Oakridge Mall. She's employed at Foxmoor which is a popular clothing store.

gotta get a job!

"Mom can I have $5.00 for the movies?"
"Son, I just gave you $10.00 last week for your allowance."
"But Mom, it's real important that I have this money!"
"But Son, that's what they all say. Get A Job!!"

Do you have this problem? Most teenagers are too lazy to find a job or just don't have the time.

Well for those who do work, way to go. Among popular employment places are fast food stands, department stores, shoe stores, and gas stations just to name a few. You probably would recieve minimum wage, and if you are lucky maybe an extra 25 cents an hour!!

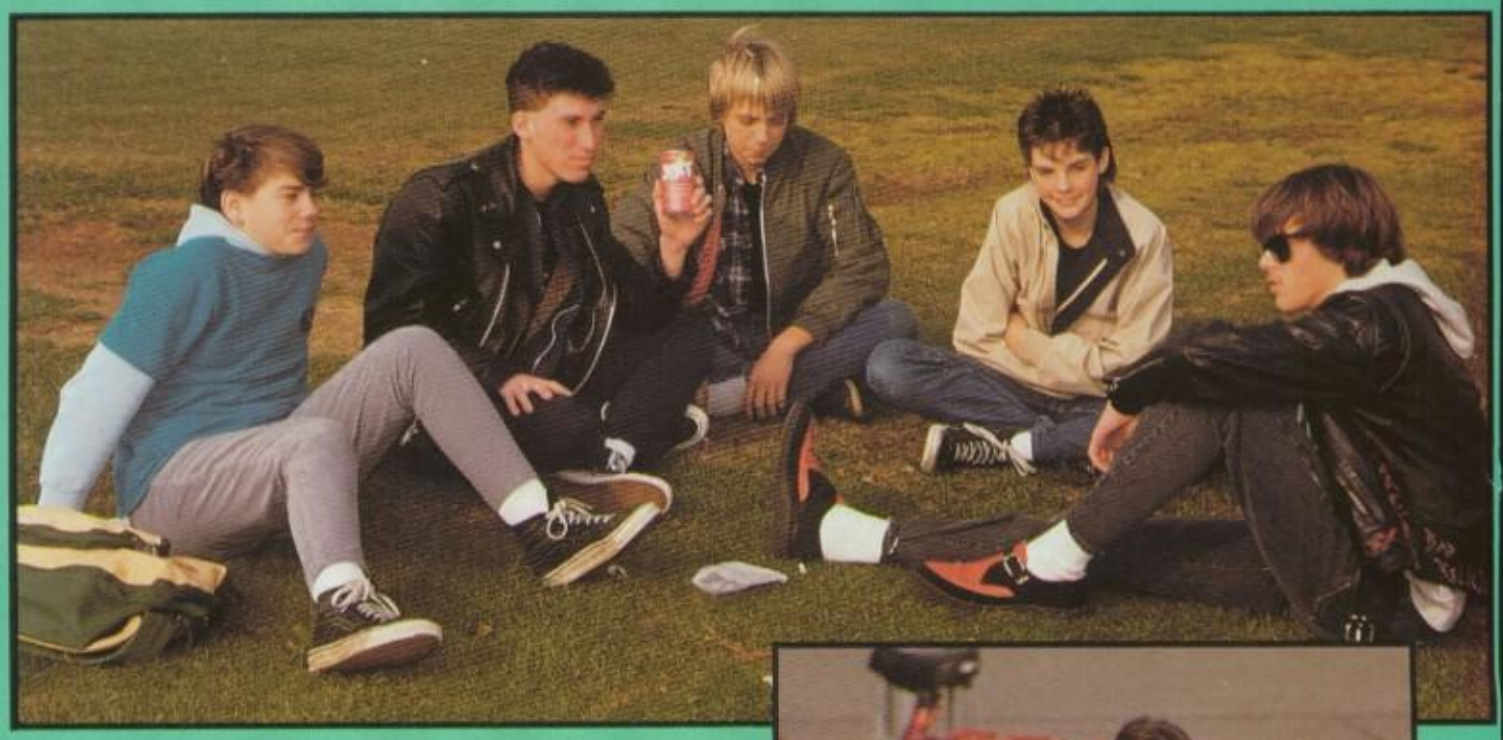
If you don't have a job now- you should try to get one. Just think, a paycheck and experience all in one!!

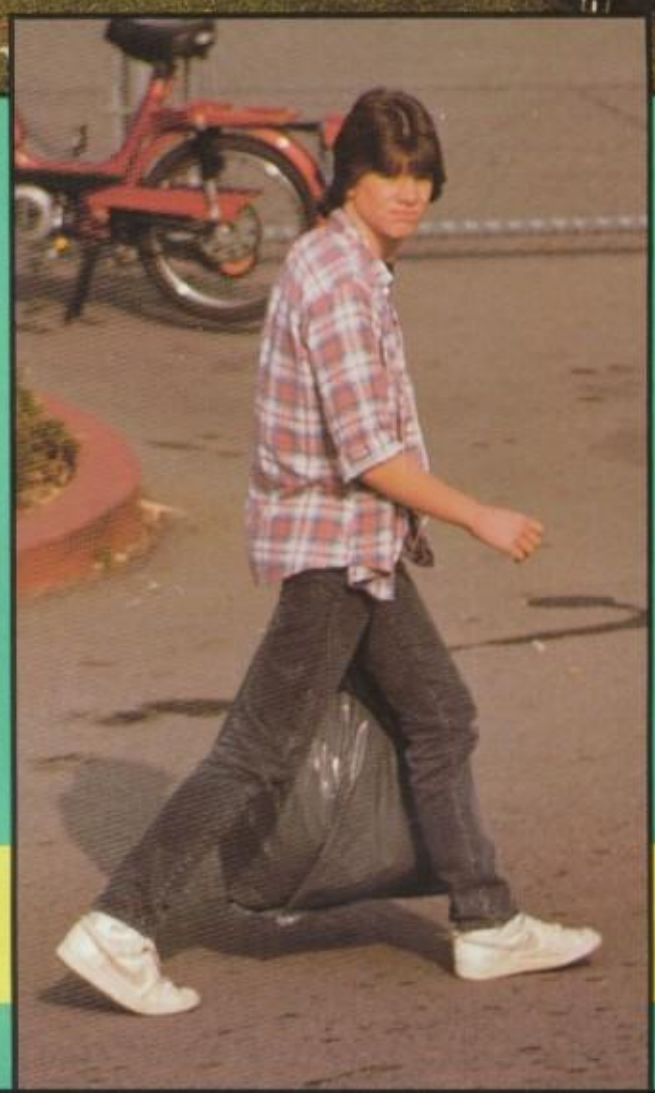
"Hey have you been to B. Dalton Book Store lately?" Dorene Rose is on top of the best sellers every week since her paycheck comes straight from Mr. Dalton himself.

"Did you charge them for one or two Orange Juliuses?" says confused Pamela Vaugn. Orange Julius is also located in the Oakridge Mall.

BEHIND BARS

When you drive past Gunderson High School you may think that it looks like a prison. This is probably because most of the school consists of massive stone buildings. However, it has never felt like a prison to Gunderson students until this year. For the first time in Gunderson's 11 year history, students experienced a closed campus. Although angered most of the students followed the rule. Some students even found legitimate ways around the new restriction by taking Work Ecperience or Independent Studies for their 5th and 6th period classes. One such student, Senior Mary Adair said, "It's just knowing that you can't leave legally." Another student felt that the "threat of being sent to another school" kept the students from leaving. Overcrowding, food lines, and a limited lunchtime were the main concerns of most students. Many seniors pushed for "Senior privileges." Each side had its own strong agruments. The chances of getting an open campus back are slim, but Gunderson students refuse to give up hope that they will someday regain their freedom.-Kristy Potter





1)"Closed Campus makes us feel like mice in a cage,"-Mike Batti.
2)Intense crowding has forced the administration to find new ways of cleaning the campus.
3)Gunderson student tries to sneak off campus under the watchful eye of the ever-present campus security.

12:11 The bell rings. Its finally lunchtime and I'm starving! I make my way to my locker through the crowded halls to get my lunch. Then I head on out to the forum. Boy is it packed with people! Due to a closed campus this year no one can leave at lunchtime so we're all stuck with each other for 40 minutes.

Its not so bad though. After waiting in the lunch line for 20 minutes, we can mingle and talk with our friends, eat our lunch while sitting on the new picnic tables and on a nice day we can relax on the grass outside in the plaza and enjoy the sun.

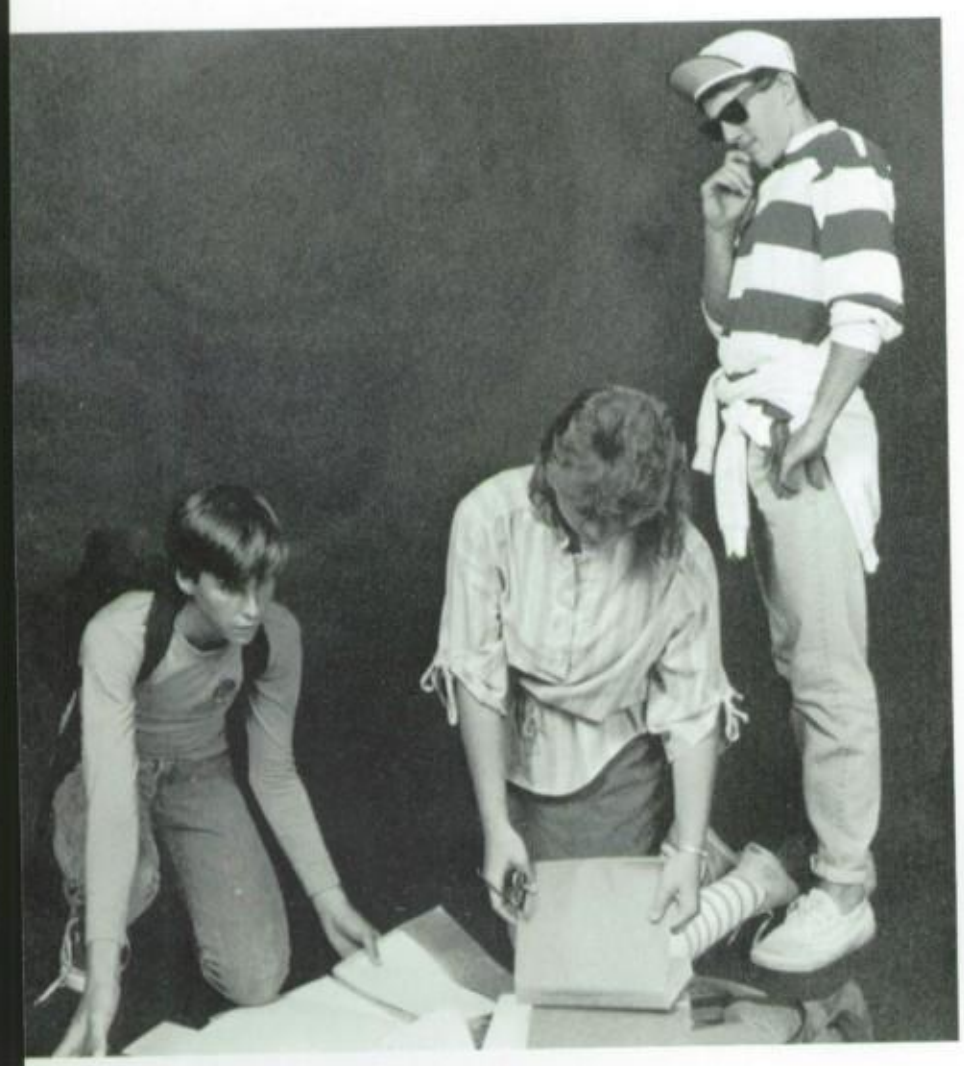
Brrring! Its 12:51 lunch is over. But just think only two more periods to go. -Stephanie Davis

"All this caffeine is addicting Im suddenly feeling frisky"

Today Grizzly boys and girls we're going to tell you a story about the relationship between the Seniors and the Freshmen...so lets start right off and introduce out characters

Here are our Freshmen (notice the confusion). Do you really think that they have a clue?

And here are our Seniors, they are wild and crazy renagades suffering from a disease known as Senioritis.



Our hero the Senior happened upon this fiasco and thought "totally hilarious dude"

So he found his buddy,and they threw a party to celebrate the Freshmen dilemma.

Our story begins with our Freshmen in Grizzly land feeling as happy as can be and always with a friend (security in numbers). Naturally our Freshmen loved each other But one day....

One of our Freshmen were caught CHEATING! (This behavior is not accepted in Freshmen code of honor.)

stonished by the Seniors mental disorder the Freshen left...So the Senior's kept celebrating now chanting, "Ding Dong the Freshmen Are Gone."

*MORAL OF THE STORY

The Surgeon General has not found a clue for senioritis

AND

Maybe the freshmen have more of a clue than we thought they did

PACKED LIKE SARDINES

Walking down the hallways at Gunderson is like, being packed in a sardine can. They're absolutely crowed. Everyone pushes and shoves but the traffic stays at a stand-still. Its a mass of students trying to go to their lockers and get to class in seven minutes. "I feel like I'm never gonna make it to class in time," says junior Bianka Garcia. But lickily most of us do make it to class on time, sometimes with a minute to spare.

"I can finally get to my locke

Will I ever make it through this

GLOBAL FRENZY

Some people believe the world is boring, 'Nothing ever happens,' yet, even as we go about the routine of our lives the world goes on in spite of us. As you were sitting at the beach or watching 'Days of Our Lives' or just kicking back enjoying your summer, the world went on- one thing after another.

On July 23, after weeks of media romanticizing, Prince Andrew married commoner, Sarah Ferguson, a career woman with 'a past' at Westminster Abbey. Some 300 million people around the globe viewed the event on television. Two days later in India, a group of Sikh extremists stopped a bus in Punjab, singled out Hindu passengers, and shot at least 13 of them to death. The next day five people were reported killed and 45 more injured in skirmishes between Hindus and Sikhs in New Delhi.

On August 6, 1986 the first artificial heart patient to live out of a hospital died after 620 days with his mechanical heart. William Schroeder was a 54-year-old retired federal worker. Doctors say he died from a series of strokes.

August 8, 1986 marked the biggest drug bust in the U.S. Twelve people were indicted for importing more than 7.5 tons of cocaine from Colombia and making more than 25 million dollars since 1980.

The Berlin Wall, which is perhaps the most visible expression of the moral difference between a free democracy and totalitarian Communism', marked its 25th anniversary. In separate ceremonies, West Berlin said the wall is 'a cause for shame and mourning', while East Berlin said 'it saved peace for our people and for the other peoples of Europe.'

In 1986 the world watched as the U.S. and Soviets played spy vs. spy. On August 24, the U.S. arrested a Soviet physicist, Gennadi Zakharov, on charges of espionage. On August 30, Nicholas Daniloff, a U.S. journalist, was detained by Soviet officials who said they saw him recieving top secret information from a friend. On Sept. 12, both men were conditionally released.

The world became unsafe because of terrorism. There was terrorist activity almost weekly.

'There ain't no stoppin' us now'

On September 5 a Pan Am jet was hijacked in Karchi, Pakistan and 15 people died. The very next day 21 people were killed as Arab gunman opened fire in a synagogue in Turkey. On September 8 a bomb went off at Paris' City Hall. One person died, 18 were wounded. Less than 24 hours later, Frank Reed, the American director of the private Lebanese International School in Moslem West Beirut, was kidnapped by a group who call themselves Islamic Holy War. On September 12 another man was kidnapped in West Beirut and a bomb ripped through a cafeteria in France, wounding 418 people.

On September 14 the Reagans began their "War on Drugs." In their television speech they called for a "national crusade" against the "cancer of drugs."

On September 16, 177 mine workers died as a fire ripped through a mine in Johannesburg, South Africa.

On September 17 William Rehnquist was confirmed as our 16th U.S. Chief Justice. On September 27 the U.S. Senate approved the biggest income tax changes since World War II.

South Africa was in a state of uprising when the U.S. proposed sanctions against them. On September 26 Reagan vetoed the Apartheid Sanctions. On October 1 the Senate overrode Reagan's veto.

On October 11 the U.S. and Soviets opened their talks on arms control, human rights a regional issues. The talks in Iceland ended in a stalemate but Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev said "the door to an agreement is not closed."

On October 27 the Mets won the World Series by a score of 8-5 over the Boston Red Sox in the 7th and final game.

Many Seniors of Gunderson High School became very involved in the elections during November in which the Democrats took control of the Senate for the first time in 6 years. Sending arms to Iran was the story that moved the nation during November and December. It was called another "Watergate". In ongoing testimonies it was becoming more and more confused. McFarlane, Regan, Poindexter, Reagan and Schultz are only a few of a long list of the people who were believed to be involved.

As we leave our protected world "Gunderson" and join the "real world" we must try to keep a balance between "the world" and "our world" which we can make better.-by Kevin Spence

You Can't Take It With You... Or Can You?

This year has been one of the most talented performance seasons in the eyes of many GHS students. There were serval star-studded shows such as the annual "Variety Show" and the Christmas presantation "Scrooge", but to most, the one that stood above the rest was the fall premier "You Can't Take It With You".

The story was written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. Once again, Betty Gardner can be credited for the superior directing.

The play revolved around a young couple in love who decide to get maried but later on realized the were from two totally different upbringings. The hopeful couple arranged for their families to meet over dinner but the groom-to-be's family paid a pre-mature visit which turned the entire evening upside down. By the end of evening the two families have had it out with one another. Suprisingly enough, a lesson had been learned. The riches in the world can't buy complete happiness. An outstanding performance was played by Paul Pesek and Lisa Green who portrayed the distraught love birds stuck between a rock and a hard place another spectacular performances by Tara Thomas, Mike Piccoli, Michelle Vega, and Liz Taylor.

These class acts will definatly be true assets to the silver screen in the future. -Kerri Santos

The Grizzlies had the safari spirit on February 20, 1987. The junior class sponsored our first dance of 1987. Everyone was excited since we hadn't had a dance since December of 1986. D.J.ing the dance was DABOYS. They played the bumpin tunes, for us to dance til we couldn't dance anymore! Kent Both said "I enjoyed the time at the dance a lot. My friends and I had a cool time dancing to the songs the D.J. played. The dance was a great success and a big money maker for the junior class bank account. Being the original school we are, the theme was new and exciting. The greens, khakis, browns, canteens, and hats were all out of the closets for the spirit of the night. Also, the picture background was a great success. A large majority of the people who attended got a shot done with a group of friends or a mate! Thanks juniors, we had a blast!" I had a great time, the music was the best! I liked the orginality of the thems!" said Lajette Moore! -Michelle Mallin

After Ten Years...

It's been a decade now and the spirit at Gunderson High is still vibrant. The spirit staff, which consists of J.V. and Varsity squads , have been persisting the entire to uphold the tradition of EXCELLENCE!! The girls work hard during fourth period preparing for rallies, halftime performances at games and for competitions. What is the goal that concerns these girls? Unlike the task of achieving the answer is very simple. Alot of times it is up to the spirit staff to promote crowd enthusiasm at games, rallies and throughout the student body on a day to day basis. Sound like a difficult job? Sometimes it is as Kyoko Harada of the varsity letter squad concurs. She comments,that "At first it was a little harder than usual to get the spirit going because everyone was down on the closed campus deal. But in the end, the Gunderson Grizzlies came through with as much, if not more spirit than usual." These girls aren't in this alone. Their spirit adviser, Barbara Uyeda, takes off some of the pressure. Mrs. Uyeda helps the girls prepare for their compeititions, organize rallies and supports each squad at camp, which the girls attend every year.-Ronni Price

We've still got it!

We're caught up at the moment.

"Grizzly Pride"

The cheerleaders at Gunderson have always been the ones to lead us in grizzly pride. They know how to take control and get a crowd motivated. These are the girls, who lead the crowd and the other members of the spirit staff, in cheers at games and rallies. The cheerleading squads, both varsity and j.v. proved their leadership ability by winning superior awards at spirit camp this sumer.-Ronni Price

Style, Class, and more Style!

"...5,6,7,8!" Sound familiar? Well it should, because if you've ever been out in the forum during fourth period these numbers can be heard almost everyday. The very same people, who yell these counts over and over are responsible for the blaring music that one often hears. If you guessed the songgirls and lettergirls you guessed right. It's the duty of these girls to put together dance routines for performances during halftime at games, rallies, and competitions. Here again the girls have demonstrated tremendous pride in the spirit at Gunderson, by bringing home superior trophies from camp. -Ronnie Price

SENIORS Boring #?%!@

NO!

ENTER THE SENIOR ZONE...

-50-WELCOME

You Are Now Entering...

a dimension, a dimension not only of space and time but of mind. This journey will take you through events and feelings that you may never again experience in quite the same light. You have just entered... the Senior Zone.

It is a state of being. As seniors there are certain rites and rituals you must perform. There are dances and football games you will attend for the last time as Gunderson students. There are the traditional Senior portraits, senior pranks and the Senior Ball. But most importantly, seniors must experience that final ceremony that officially ends one stage of life an opens the doors to another realm, Graduation!

The Senior Zone is also a state of mind. There are thoughts, feelings, and emotions connected with this year that only other seniors could fully understand and relate to. The stresses and tension associated with work, college, money and a career is sometimes hard to bear. Of course, there is also the anticipation, excitement, happiness and relief not only in finding what you're looking for but also just knowing that beyond this dimension are independence, responsibility, and an adult world.

As you prepare to exit the Senior Zone remember what you have learned at Gunderson and good luck on your future journeys.

Luenitics At Large, A Note To All The Underclassmen *who mocked our Senior Class and called us Boring?

HA! We laugh at your stupidity. You are frustrated with the closed campus sanction and have decided that we will be your scapegoat. Such childish notions must be dispelled-because, my underclassmen friends, the facts are simple:

1. The day after the class of '86 left we the seniors of '87 pulled our first prank

COOL!

2. Since the beginning of the year we have won 95% of the spirit competitions losing only one to the junior class because we pulled yet another prank in which most of us left.

WAY COOL!

3. Various underwear and rat pranks have as we expected shut you up and have left you with a giant inferiority complex.

WAY BEYOND MELLOW COOL

Sorry to leave you underclassmen in the dust but you must realize we are the ultimate cool. -by Kevin Spence and Nels Fiksdal

AGE SENIOR

The freshman was nervous, but still he approached. He had not traveled across that wide and sticky forum for naught. He would get what he came for. He needed advice. He needed counsel. He needed some Clearasil, but that's beside the point. He approached the Guru, Sage Senior.

"Oh great and powerful Senior," he wimpered in his freshmanish way, "what is the secret to Gunderson life? What must I do to become like you?" His smile was almost as pathetic as his voice, but still the pitying Senior deigned a response.

"Little grape pit, insignificant iguana sweat, I shall answer you." The Guru was certainly a generous fellow. "To reach this state of grandeur," the Guru gestured to the empty Coke cans and molding donuts at his feet, "you must attain that much sought after, but rarely attained 'senior attitude'."

He paused a moment to crunch a Dorito, then continued. "Laid back. No pressures, no hassles, no worries. It is a myth that all seniors have it." As he spoke, soggy corn-chip fragments fell from his mouth into his lap. He seemed not to notice. "I saw a senior once who spent too long researching scholarships. He ran from the Career Center screaming, 'If only I was a blind, left-handed, veteran from New Hampshire'! Definitely uncool."

"But what must I do?" whined the sniveling underclassman. "You must practice your 'attitude.'" You must be able to walk through the halls without having to check to see if your fly is down. You must be able to cope with a sneeze in class when you are without a tissue. You must be able to stare into your teacher's eyes and deny that you were cheating when she finds your cheat sheet on the ground. And most importantly, you must be able to tell your friends that it wasn't that you couldn't get a date for Homecoming, it was just that you didn't want to go." The freshman thanked the Guru and walked off. At about twenty paces away, he looked at his fly, tripped on a milkshake cup, and landed on his face. "He has a long way to go," thought Sage Senior as he shoved more Doritos down his throat.-By James P. Gibbons

AFTER HOURS
What do Seniors do after the bell rings?

What do Seniors do after the bell rings? Some Seniors work in the work experience program and can leave after fourth or fifth period. Others work nights and juggle it with homework, extra-curricular activities, sports and maybe even a social life on top of that. 'Between work, school, spirit, and leadership, I still manage to find time for fun," says Senior , Ronni Price. From some of these seniors you here, 'Stress! Stress! I'm so stressed!" Part of being a senior is having a lot of stress and learning to deal with it. 'Just going out with my friends and being myself relieves all the stress," says Tracy Pomarantz. So somewhere in there between all the hastle, stress, and chaos they manage to fit in the parties, those hot new movies, dances, and dates. 'Meeting someone new and establishing new friendships is what I like to do after hours," says Cristi Foster. So their after hours aren't completely dominated by work! study! stress! They know they're seniors and it's their year to have fun before, during and after hours.-Kyoko Harada surrounding me every day, I just need some time, some time to get away....Get away?! Forget that, why leave when you could be filled in on the latest! And unfortunately high school halls are filled with it! It's too bad that it has to be this way, as soon as an old rumor dies a new one is ready to begin. It all goes back to the old saying, "If you don't have anythin nice to say- don't say anything at all." As nasty as gossip can be (and lets keep in mind that not all gossip is nasty) it is one of people's favorite pasttimes. We all have to admit that we have all gossipped at one time or another. Like the time that you saw Susan at the dance and you gossipped about how pretty she looked. See, gossip can be a compliment it's not always a put down. Wouldn't it be nice if it could always be like that! But I guess if all gossip was nice, life and school would be boring.- Michelle Gruber

H ave You Heard? Look at all these rumors....

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF DEBORAH

Deborah, the GHS student. She was leaving her bright red VW Bug in the parking lot to go to first period.

Deborah had it all together; there was not a day she did not spray Obsession on her wrists, or put three different pairs of socks on to match her outfit. She is fully equipped with both a gold bag and a silver bag, with shoes to match.

Today she is strutting to American Government first period in her black rhinestone boots, her hair fashionably thrown into place, and with the one thought on her mind, 'Where's the party this weekend?" That is exactly what her little yellow sign in her car says, and something she has deep interest in.

Her bright yellow shirt is untucked and buttoned to the top, delicately finished with a gold broche and pearls. Her oversized black sweater falls neatly over her Guess jean skirt.

She looks down on her Diamond Swatch, and exclaims,'I am going to stress, I'm late to English."

Lunchtime is a social hour for Deborah. Her gold bracelets dangle as she tips the Rasberry New York Seltzer to her mouth. No lip gloss was lost when she ate her Togo's sandwich which was bought the night before. 'Closed campus lags," mumbles Deborah, and everyone quickly agrees.

She went to the ladies room to retouch her make-up, and to brush her hair into a mess. She pulled out her hairspray, Spritz by Sebastian, and coats her head.

One more hour to go, and Deborah will be leaving for work, a cashier at Nordstrom in Oakridge. -by Joanna Berton a status that we have long awaited through the lean freshman, sophomore and junior years. We never thought we'd make it.

COUNTDOWN TO FREEDOM

Then it came, and the year seemed as though it would never end. College entrance exams, applications, letters of acceptance, jobs, money, passing classes, and whether or not we'd graduate. The numerous possibilities and decisions took their toll on us.

It was a time to wait, sweat it out, consider the options, decide on our future, celebrate, relax and work hard.

Lifetime careers, colleges, what to major in, where to graduate, a date for the Senior Ball were just a few of the time consuming considerations that weighed heavily on the shoulders of seniors.

After thirteen years of education we have finally made it. Freedom is just around the corner! -By Kathleen Stahr

TOP BRASS:
Unique from all other hierarchies

The high school caste system, permits all of members to visit every social class. This system allows students to grow through every stage for an equal period of time.

When someone enters high school, they start off as simple peasantry. These poor dregs are dubbed freshmen but are more commonly refered to as "freshmeat." Freshmen herd around like cattle with wide eyes and empty heads stunned at the size of our fine institution. They panic when they can't open their lockers. They panic when they have to go advisory. They panic when they try to drink from the high-pressure power nozzle at the north end of the Forum. These members of the great unwashed rarely do more than ten mintues of homework, so they may enjoy cartoons. A common place to find freshmen is rolling down the halls in trash cans and swimming in the pool fully clothed. The next group is the Sophomores. They rarely do much except pick on freshmen because they do not have anyone else to molest. Sophomores spend most of thier time talking about Drivers' Licenses since they don't have them yet. This is a pretty dead clan.

The third year in high school, or the Junior year, is the year where all the learning gets done. These 'senior wannabees" start finishing up all extra credits required for graduation. They plan on taking Summer School if necessary. Work, work, work. A noble year.

The highest order belongs to the Seniors. Being the top brass. They know all the ways to manipulate the systems. They know which doors open what and where to cut through when they are late. Since Seniors often have night jobs, they rarely have time for breakfast so they keep a supply of pop tarts in their lockers. Seniors are often found sleeping in class and wishing they had time to watch cartoons. Seniors are occasionally stricken with Seniortis and a look that says ?"∂$%$£†☭(†☭†((££, four years sure when fast."-By Benjamin Godfrey*

SENIOR YEAR: THE IMPOSSIBLE DREAM!

You've looked forward to it since you were a freshmen. For three years it had seemed like the "Impossible Dream" now its finally here; your senior year — Graduation! But is that all three is to bring a senior?

A senior is special. Not only is it the fact that you are finally graduating, but it is the priveledges that go with the title. It is Senior Ball, Senior Picnic, Senior Rally, Grad night, and all of the other activities that are for Seniors only. It is going to Hawii after graduation with your friends. It is simply knowing that you are no longer an underclassman.

Being a senior can also be very stressful. Suddenly you are faced with decisions that will effect your entire life. Decisions such as choosing a college and a career. You realize that your friends are all going to different colleges and you may never see them again.

Most importantly, being a senior means graduating after twelve years of school. It is the end of one part of your life and the beginning of another. -By Sandy Manini

OUR ADVISORS

Our Advisors have played a big part of our lives for the past four years. Although some of us have had a couple of different ones, the advisors we've had our Senior years have helped us tremendously filling out SAT forms, getting information about college, finding out about college nights and workshops. Our advisors have been our teachers and friends in the times when we really needed them. And now we're graduating-graduating, can you believe it? We are grateful for your support, we couldn't have made it without you! -Michelle Grubert

METAMORPHASIS

It was scary
walking through

Now it's time to move on, and I wonder is this good-bye to high school and special friends we made through out four years here known before? My eyes get watery, when I think of how we will now go seperate ways, and we will never be together again as a class.
When companing our freshmen pictures to our senior portraits I noticed how older everybody looks. Not only do we look older, but we act older, also. I am also happy because now we can move into a new stage of our lives. I hope each of you has a very succesful future.
I am proud to be a classmate of such a fun, hard-working, and unique class. I am so honored that you chose me to be your class president for four years. Thank you for support. I am going to miss you and the fun times here at Gunderson. Best wishes always.

Love,
Tina Zapata

SUPREME COURT HIGHLIGHTS

LISA HIRAI

"Student Government has helped me to realize my limits, my capabilities, and my potential."

Lisa Hirai, a senior, may present an unimposing figure, but her record of school and community involvement would knock you down. This un-sung hero has spent countless hours before, during and after school fulfilling her numerous duties and volunteering to do more. On top of her commendable service record she has maintained a 4.0 GPA throughout her four years at Gunderson with a rigorous schedule including honors and advanced classes. Lisa, through her invlolvement at Gunderson has made a considerable contribution of her time and talents as a leader, artist and person.

school constitution. The early morning class allowed our school government to work more efficiently by giving our officers time to meet on and discuss pertinent matters. For this class they also received a letter grade and course credit.

ASB and class officers spent the year fundraising and organizing dances. The Supreme Court wrote up and implemented a new school constitution under the direction of Chief Justice Lisa Hirai. Thanks to the guidance of Lani Evans, Tom Adams and Dennis Moran, our officers have been able to do many new and creative things as well as make innovative changes to make our government stronger and more effective.-Kathleen Stahr

YEARBOOK HIGHLIGHT

NELS FIKSDAL

"I Love these guys and I will stand behind them and our work."

How hard is it to create a yearbook? Just ask Nels Fiksdal. As a four year veteran, Nels is one of the three editors this year. He tries to be the link between the new kids and the people working with the computer. He works with Lung Association representatives at Steinbeck. He is involved in many other activities. For awhile he was involved with School Climate Commitee working on the clean campus drive. Also he is working on a new program at Gunderson, Peer Counseling, which he has found to be the most rewarding work so far. He has also been on the Varsity Football team for two years and was one of five captains this year. He has also been very involved in young life.

YEARBOOK

The three editors Nels Fiksdal, Kristy Potter and Renee Jones along with senior Sandy Mannini returned from yearbook camp this summer with some new and exciting ideas. With a staff of mostly newcomers it was a year to break some of the traditional rules. At times it was frustrating as we had to face new situations. This year we started using a computer to aid the staff; however, beginning a new system was stressful and hard on the whole staff. No one was sure how to use it, but for future staffs it will be a great help. Having a young staff had it's ups and downs. Although they offered new and exciting ideas they didn't fully understand the responsability and challenge that creating a yearbook takes. This is not just a kickback class! we have experienced great difficulty recieving pictures this year due to the lack of responsability of the photo class which was not the fault of the photography editor, Dave Provenza. All three editors; Nels Fiksdal, Kristy Potter, and Renee Jones along with Dave Provenza and Mr. Jones have done an outstanding job dealing with the stress and complications of this year. They have worked hard and kept everyones spirits up.

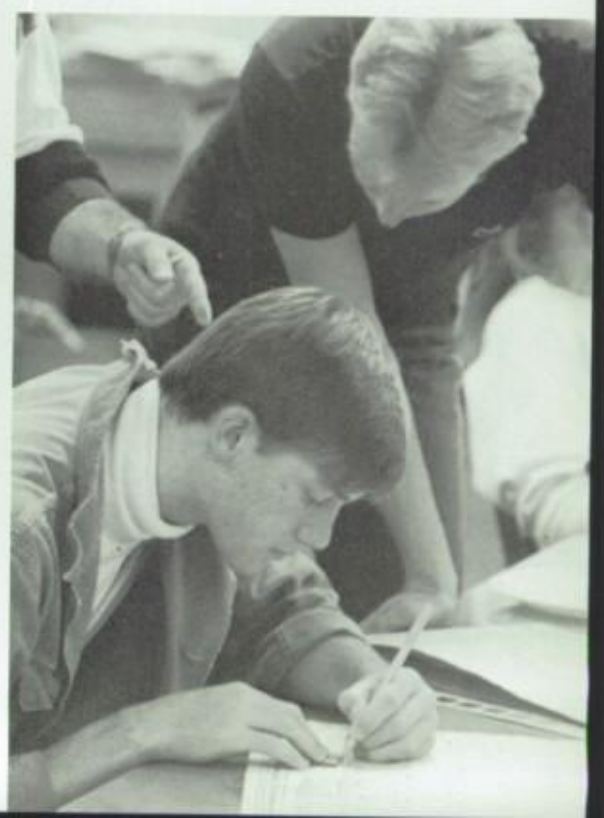

PHOTO HIGHLIGHT

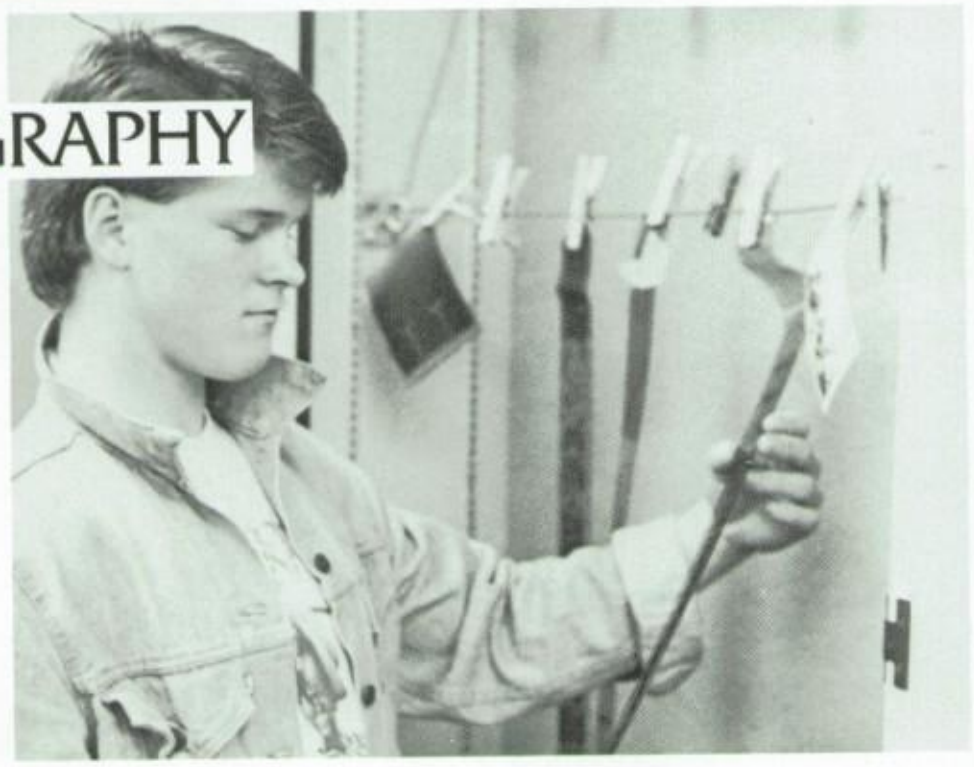
Dave Provenza

"Photography is a way of capturing special moments."

Dave Provenza takes pictures for the yearbook and school newspaper. He has been in photography for the last three years. His stepfather owns a studio which got him interested in photography when he was little. He is in the Paw Club, advance photography and is also a photo editor. He would like to plan a career in photography but he is not sure because it is an unstable job. He also would like to be in advertising. He enjoys taking pictures of people and photography is his favorite hobby.

PHOTOGRAPHY



Photography is an elective for two semesters. In the first semester you learn how a camera works, how to take better pictures, and to develop black and white film. Mr. Root teaches all the photography classes and enjoys it. In the second semester you make a film with a group of students. You also get to make a commercial using a video camera, "actors", students in the class. Students who enjoy this class can sign up for advanced photography. In this class they take pictures for the yearbook staff. There is also a Paw club also known as photographers at work.-Doug Dailey

JAMES GIBBONS

"One learns three important skills that are essential to survival..."

James Gibbons is the editor of the Paw Print, the President of the Barrister's club, the Vice President of CSF, and received the Who's Who Award in English. "James is the most versatile student I have had the pleasure of working with in my seventeen years of teaching." says Mrs. Hamor.

He has worked with the staff for three years. He says in working with the Paw Print, one learns three skills. They are to write, speak, and deal well with people.

THE PAW PRINT

Gunderson's information center, the school newspaper, also known as the Paw Print has been outstanding this year because of all the hard work put in by the staff. They meet everyday during fourth period where they learn several important skills. Skills in how to interview a person, remain objective, and listen carefully so that they can quote as accurately as possible. Then they learn how to put all this information together into an outstanding newspaper. They have to know more than just basic facts, they have to learn about the artistic side of putting a newspaper together to make it more interesting for the readers. A lot of times this is very difficult to do. 'I don't always agree with them,' says Mrs. Hamor, the advisor of the Paw Print, 'but the most important thing we have learned is to have mutual respect for one another's opinions.' The newspaper staff has managed to do a good job because they've worked so well with the editor, James Gibbons.'It's not all pressure. We write stories, make some friends, and have a good time doing it.' he says.

STEPHANIE FLOYD

"It's a good way to keep informed on what's going on in the district."

Stephanie Floyd always has something going. It might be playing varsity soccer, tennis or working part-time, or going to Younglife or a meeting for PTSA. She also plays league soccer all year round and is involved in most school events. Some of her honors include being the V-P of the Varsity Club, an active member of the LEO club. Even with all of this she has a 3.3 grade point average. When she graduates from high school she wants to attend one of the University of California or San Diego State University. -Kevin Spence

BOOSTER CLUB

Ever wonder who all those rowdy parents were at the football and basketball games? They were supporters who donate their time, effort and most of all spirit to the Gunderson athletic program. They are the "Boosters." They have fundraisers to help keep Gunderson athletics the best they can be. Their big fundraiser this year was a basketball game between the Grizzly Boosters and KNTV Channel 11. Even though the Boosters lost, they fought hard and most of all, they had fun. Thank you Boosters!

Ever wonder who sponsers the "Gunderson Link" which is sent to your house with all that Grizzly information about happenings and upcoming events? Well it's the PTSA. The PTSA relies on the involvement of parents, teachers and students "together" to try and better our school and community. The PTSA also sponsors such events as "Academic Honors Night" to recognize students' academic achievements. So here it is- the PTSA!

CHESS HIGHLIGHT

NATHAN AKAMINE

"A king can't mate, chess players mate better."

Nathan Akamine has been playing chess for nine years. In his past experiences his words of wisdom to you are: "A king can't mate, chess players mate better." Chess is very exciting, you need to have an open mind and fully understand the game before you can join teams and clubs. Our coach Mr. North will help you if you have any questions about the game.

CHESS

Are you the kind of person that enjoys playing games all the time? Would you like to play those exciting games with other people from other schools? Well the Gunderson chess team is for you. Coach North has been teaching chess for seven consecutive years. He says, "The game of chess is very interesting and everyday you learn something new." Gunderson has won five out of their first eight matches putting them in second place. Bellarmine was their hardest competitor. Mr. North will help and guide you to a better understanding of the game of chess.- Anthony Giannosa

Are you the kind of person that can stand up in front of crowds of thousands? Well, now you can win awards for doing just that. The Gunderson speech team is a sport where a student can compete against students from other schools in tournaments around the country. Coach Brasher has been teaching speech for nineteen years. She says, "Speech is a very competitive sport." Eric Bosse says, "Speech is like a rock in the ocean." Mrs. Brasher teaches speech in many schools all over the San Jose area. She says, "Speech is so exciting that words cannot describe." -Anthony Giannosa

Barristers

Order in the court, or shall I say classroom. This club deals in court behavior. It teaches kids Gunderson students about courtroom behavior. It teaches them basics of the courtroom. The club is for those who which to seek profession in the law field. Brought to Gunderson only a short time ago it has become one of Gunderson's most popular clubs. The club also gets involved in a mock trial where the kids actually get to participate in a real courtroom. They get a case and pick roles in which they actually play a role in a court-room scene. They prepare there won interpretation and present it. The Final Decision is made by a real judge. Good luck in the future. -Robert Avila

BECKY WHITMAN

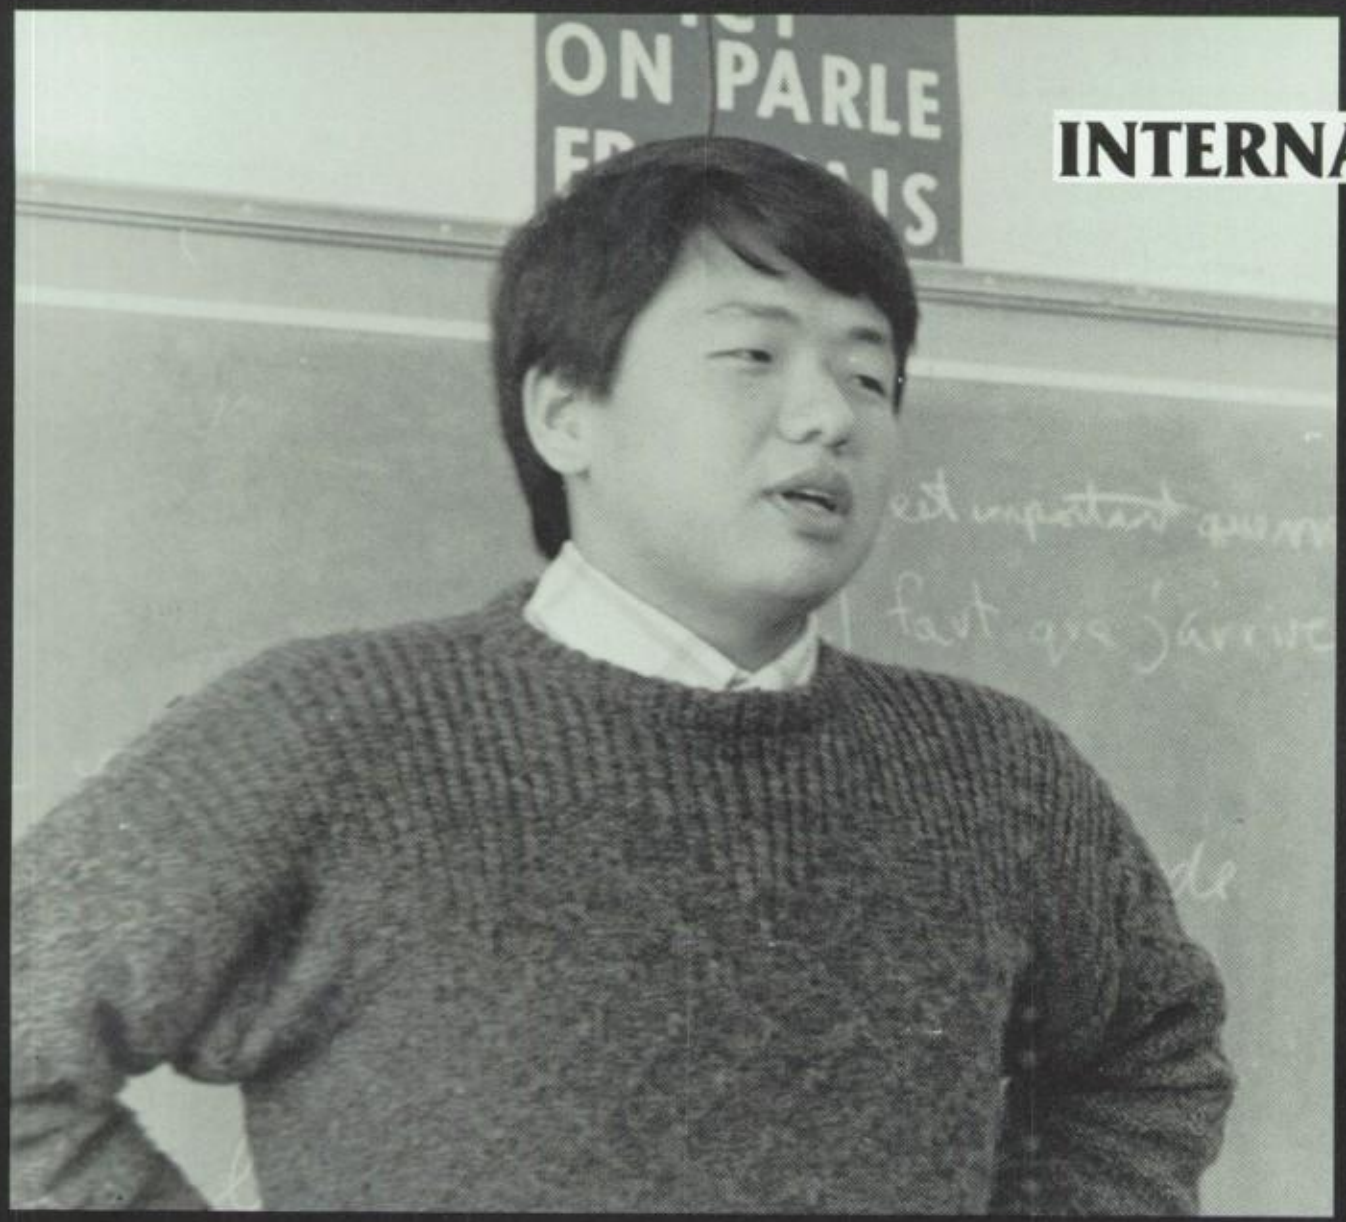
"I think it is a good club for community service. We show a lot of pride for our school."

Becky Wightman was the president of the LEO club and has been in the club for four years. She cares about people in her community and she wants to be as much help as she can be to her school. Becky spends a lot of time helping other students with their work and problems. She enjoys the club because it broadens her ability to help those around her.

LEO

The Leo Club

Have you ever wanted to help someone? Have you ever wanted to donate to the poor or just make someone happy? Then you should join the LEO club. The LEO club has several different fundraisers including food drives and candy sales. They go door-to-door collecting money for UNICEF, they helped the Lions club paint curbs, they also visit elderly homes and foster children. Join the LEO club and show pride in your school.



INTERNATIONAL

International club is a group of students form all different kinds of nationalities. They meet once a week and talk about their cultures. This gives them a chance to learn more about other backgrounds besides their own. The club has made a tradition of having an International day every year. During this day the lunch period is extended to make time for all the food festivities which occur the whole day.

SCIENCE HIGHLIGHTS

YAT-PANG AU

'It's not a place where we just mix chemicals.'

The president of the Science Club, Yat Pang Au, has proven himself as a responsible and hard working student. He was also the president of the Math Club last year as a Junior.

Mr. Vasconcellos says, "he's a hardworker and works well with the other members."

This year he received the Who's Who Science Award. He likes to meet with the members because they're all interested in science and can work on projects. He emphasizes that they have fun too."It's not a place where we just mix chemicals."

Science and Math

The Math and Science Clubs are two clubs that are completely misunderstood. Most people think they meet simply to study or work on experiments, but they actually meet to be social and have fun too.

Tom Cole, president of the Math Club, says it's only been around for a very short time. He has been a member since it originated two years ago. Besides hard work, Tom says,"It can be fun too."

Yat Pang Au, the president of the Science Club, says,"The purpose is to work in science together and to be social at the same time." So these hard working clubs know how to enjoy themselves too.

What is one of the largest youth's national organizations? It's the FFA, the Future Farmers of America. We sent representatives to a national convention this year where twenty-three thousand attended. We sent Rod Morimoto, the President. In FFA, the students get agricultural experience.

They meet everyday during fourth and fifth period. They work with their own gardens, and learn to work with budgets too. So they get a well rounded agricultural experience and education.

JUANITA STOVALL

"Drama Club students are the same as everyone else"

As I prepare to go on to college as a theatre arts major, I want to reflect on the one person who got me interested in the theatre here at Gunderson; Betty Gardner is the woman behind the strong theatre at GHS.

My one departing wish for Gunderson would have to be this; for the athletes and the rest of the student body to see that drama club students are the same as everyone else in high school, just students looking for a place to belong.- Juanita E. Stovall

Drama

The drama club officers arranged many activities this past year. They organized two trips to San Francisco to see "Cats" and to the opera. They have two major fundraisers during the year. They are: the talent show, which was "The Late Night Show" and the other is to sell candy. The club has shown class in the past years and hasn't always recieved the respect they deserve. But the applause at the end of a show assures them they give the school a gift no one else has been able to achieve. -Robert Avila

Mrs. Evans has a way of entertaining her class.

All right class, sit down and take out a piece of paper. It's time for a pop quiz! Does this sound familiar? It should because this is History.

Freshmen are taught World Cultures, sophomores taught Drivers Education and an Introduction to Social Studies, jnuiors get U.S. History, and for seniors there was a number of classes available, including American Government, Psychology, Sociology, and Consumer Economics.

All history classes are offered in both normal and honors. Honors is offered for the student who excells in the field of Social Studies.

ENGLISH

Hillbilly Rap

Ain't you never goin learn to talk good? Boy don't let Mr. Allen hear that come out of your mouth.

Here at Gunderson we have an exciting new class called study skills. In the class which takes place before and after school you learn new and effective ways of studying and test taking.

Honors English is for students who excel in the area of english. The big change from average is based mostly on literature.

English, at level or above is required during you 4 year stay here at Gunderson.

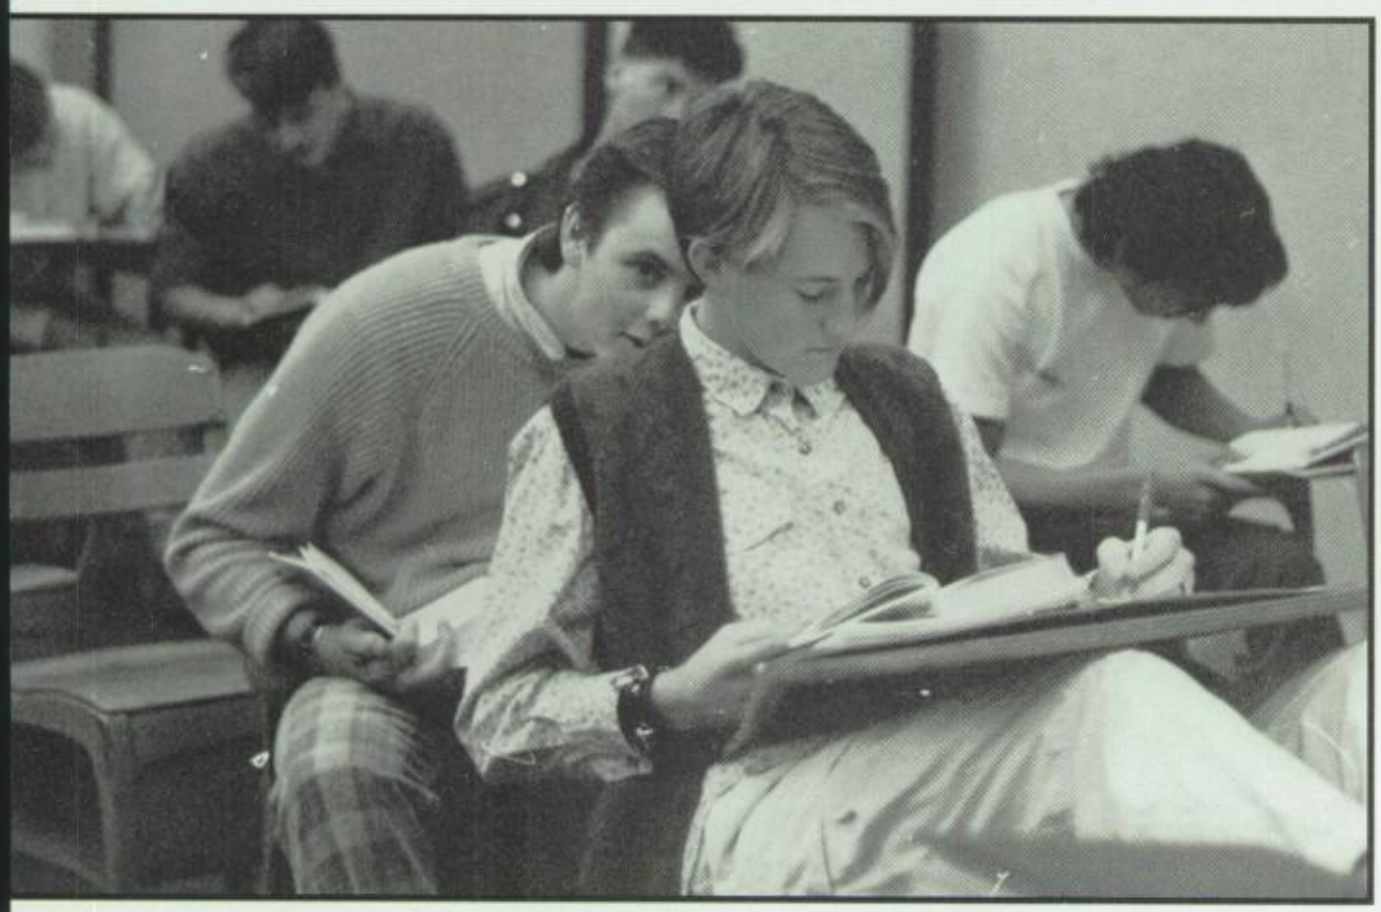
ANXIETY

stressing before finals



It's the day before finals. You've put off studying until now and now you hate yourself for it. How is it possible for one person to retain this much information? Many students procrastinate and continue to do this throughout their four years here. When finals studying or not studing is a definitely stressful time. There's so much for just one exam stressing for finals is something that is almost impossible for a student to avoid.

MATH

ADDING IT UP

Add, subtract, multiply, divide, formulas, ratios, decimals, where does it end? Here at Gunderson you can take all of the basic Algebra courses or a few other math classes. Is math really interesting? A certain degree of math is involved in almost every occupation from doctor to mechanic you need math to survive. Most students don't know what occupation they will choose. Nicole Athearn, a freshmen, says, "Geometry is boring, but sometimes fun." -Patti Brownlee

SCIENCE

Why be a science student? So you can refer to your axillaries instead of your armpits? Not necessarily. Though they are ashamed to admit it, most of Gunderson takes a science course at some time or another. Why? One fairly common answer is: "So I can graduate and go to a good college." Many students, however, cling to the myth that college prep science classes will only help them if they want to major in a medical science. But in the "real world," colleges prefer or even require high school science for their students in electronics, computers, medicine, mechanics, and some teaching fields. A good grade in a hard science class shows colleges that you're willing to work to get what you want. "You're now in one of the heaviest, hardest workload classes offered at Gunderson High School," says Mr. Brian Beck to his college prep Physiology class. "Just thought I'd brighten your day a little."

A vote taken stated that out of the four hardest courses offered at Gunderson, two are science classes. And no matter how you feel about it now, when you graduate from a good college and get the job of your choice, you'll be kind of glad that you took that science class. Even if the homework did come up to your axillaries.

STUDYIN'

Sleep. Before a big test, very few students sleep; only those who are sure of their intelligence and secure in their familiarity of the subject have time for this commodity. Most students, however, cram. They stay up late the night before the test and drill the material into their minds; or, they may get up early that morning and study for a long time before going to school. You can usually spot a student who went through a rigorous cram session because they usually have dark circles under their eyes, yawn a lot, and just generally look like they got mugged a few times.

There are a few students who study, though, and you can usually spot them because they are likely to be the ones with the better grades. "Instead of watching their favorite television show, they locked themselves in their bedroom when they got home from school and studied for several hours every night, right?" Nope. "Well, they must not have any sort of social life, do they ?" They sure do. "Do they work too?" Some do. Just as much as other students, anyway. What's the secret? Quality of study time, not quantity. Half an hour per evening is more than adequate if you do your homework. And you can't keep jumping for food or phone, either. Quality is why most cram sessions fail-the student is so stressed out that little or no information enters his/her mind for any length of time.

There are a few exceptions to evey rule, of course. Some people work better on a deadline than others, and thus cram better. But no has ever really studied and not gotten some information out of it. -David Eckels

LANGUAGE

Spanish:Te parece familiar esto que lues? Si es asi, es porque proba-blemente estas estrediando espanol aqui en Gunderson, En nuestras clases de espanol aprendas mucho mas que palabras sencillas como BURRITO o TACO. Aprendes a sentir respecto y admiracion por una cultura diferente a la tuga. La mayoria de los estudiantes odian la con jugacion de verbos y muchas neces nos parece que todo es al reves de nuestra lengua inglesa; pero el espanol que aprendes te ayuda mucho cuando quierea hablar con tus amigos latinos sin que tus padres sepan lo que dicer. Muchos estudiantes prefieren el espanol como segunda lengua porque California y Mexico son vecinos, asi para nostros, el espanol es muy util.

Les francias ne sont par tres aimables aux americains, mais si vous parlez la langue, it's vous accepteront. Donc, si vons avez l'intention ven jour de visiter la France, ca vant la peine d'apprendre la langue.

Translation

Spanish: Does this language look familiar? If it does you probably have taken spanish here at GHS. In this class you learn a lot more than the words burrito and taco. You get a feeling for a different culture. Most students hate conjagating verbsand the language may sound bakwards, but it comes in very handy when you are talking to your friends and you don't want your parents to know what you are saying. Many students prefer to take Spanish because California is so close to the Spanish speaking country of Mexico. Spanish is very useful.

French: French is the language of love. You can say the rudest expression in French and it will sound good. The people of France are not very friendly to Amercians, but if you know the language they will accept you. So if you plan to ever visit France, learn the language. Now that you have a taste of each language, the chioce is up to you, GHS offers all three languages. Whatever you pick will be the right chioce.

Different. That is the word most commonly expressed by foreign exchange students. But what is being a foreign exchange student?

Being a foreign exchange student is meeting new people. It's experiencing a different culture. It's also a good way to put your foreign language to use.

This year we have five foreign exchange students at GHS. They mainly agree that things were strange at first, but now they are having a great time. Students here like the exchange studetns because they are really friendly and try to get involved in the school. It's a really great experience.

FINE ARTS

Welcome to yourself

If you explored your mind, do you honestly know what you would see? Your likes, dislikes, things you're good at, things you're not good at? Things that inspire you? If you're involved at the Fine Arts department at Gunderson, you probably know about yourself, and can express this to others. You're also probably pretty good at transfering your emotions into a medium, such as sketching, painting, ceramics, stained glass, or the stage. That's what art is all about: expressing yourself.

PROGRAM

Of Excellence

A few more of the actors in "Can't take it with you"

Mr. Morans art class

1986. The San Jose Unified School District implemented the desegregation program, sending students to the school with an emphasis on the subject of their choice. Lincoln High has their performing arts department, Leland High has their business program, and, among others, Gunderson High has its fine arts program. The popularity of this program is one sign that it must be good; another is that we've won many awards in art competitions. The reasons? Who knows? It could be the teachers. They put a lot of talent, imagination, and plain old effort into what they do. But, since the students are the ones competing and showing the popularity of the program, it's more likely to be the students. Some of them only take art classes, and then, some of them are truly artists.

Those artists are pretty special, too. To be an artist you have to like what you're doing. That means you enjoy mixing and wetting the clay, smelling the delicate aroma of the paints, and spending the time to get the shading right on that drawing; you have to like working with the soldering irons in stained glass, dealing with developing fluid in photography,or sweating onstage in drama.

You can't lie to yourself in art. If you really want to study science, then even if you do get to have a class with your girlfriend, you're not going to enjoy the class that much. You're not going to be able to express that feeling that you find in a good artists work. And those good artists are the ones who make Gunderson a Program of Excellence in the Fine Arts. -David Eckels

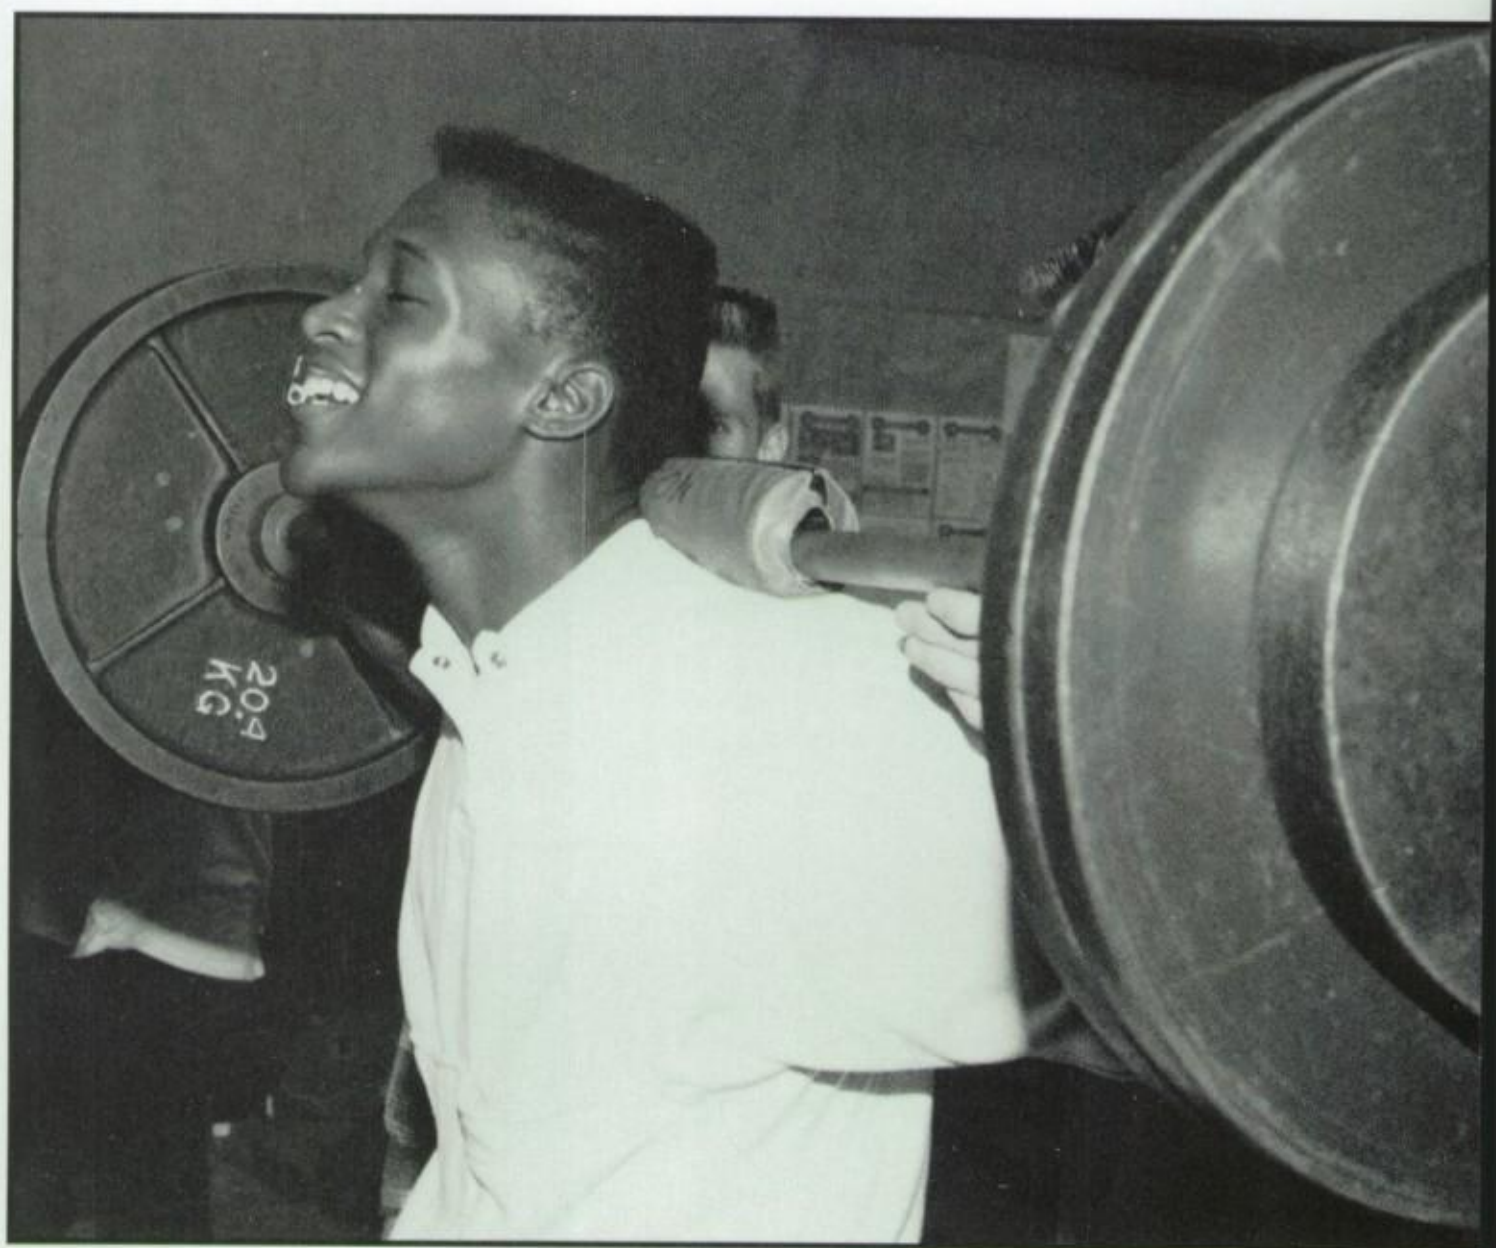
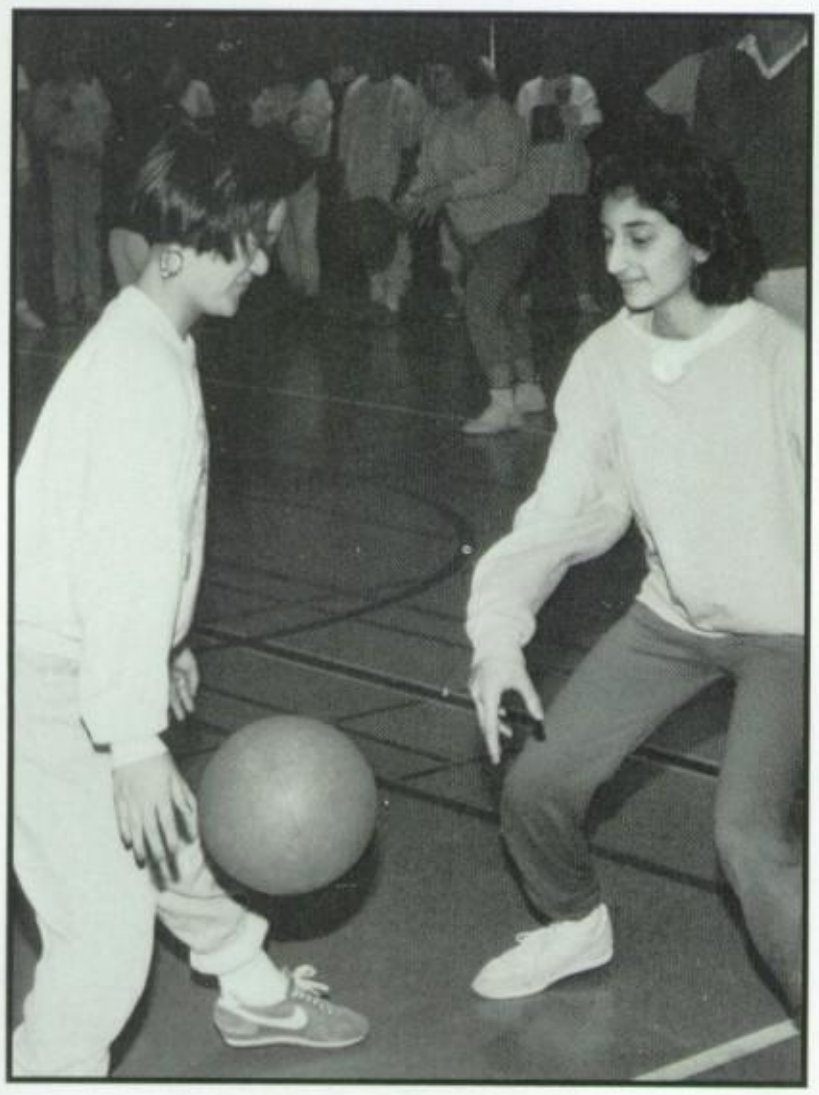
SHAPE - UP

In physical education





Physical education is an elective system that keeps the students in shape. There is a testing for physical fitness two times a year which helps the kids stay healthy. Classes offered in P.E. include field hockey, swimming, basketball, baseball, football, ultimate frisbee, weight training, team handball, soccer, wrestling, volleyball, badminton and aerobics. Coach Bob Hernandez does an excellent job as the department chair person of physical education. The students enjoy the program. Jerrad Maruyama says,"It's better that you can pick your own sport. They've arranged it so it's not such an easy "A" anymore."- Sandy Mannini

WORKOUT

In aerobics

Aerobics is a well-liked elective class which has been offered for two years now each year it gets better and better. The class is open to juniors and seniors, female and male. The class is fun and tiring with the students doing spot exercising and routines to current music. One student remarked, "It totally keeps us in shape. We work out hard and for a long time!" Mrs. Takaki, the teacher of the course, said, "Don't miss out, this class is a lot of fun. Ask anyone who took it this year!"

APPLIED ARTS

Industrial works of imagination

What exactly is an applied art? It can be classified as any of the following: autoshop, cooking, typing, metals, woodshop, etc.

All are electives for interested students of any grade, and are especially popular with students planning careers in similar fields. However, some students are just in the classes for a fun experience.

All of these subjects can be quite beneficial. Autoshop teaches students the "inside" and "outside" of vehicles. Cooking is a course for students with culinary talents. Typing can be used in many fields, as well as being an aide in college. Metals and woodshop teach students the basics of construction and how to exercise caution around machinery. All of these classes stress "applying" yourself to make your own creations. -Patti Brownlee

SPECIAL

Opportunities

Gunderson has other choices for one's education besides the normal academic courses like math, social studies, and english. One choice many students select is the Independent Studies program. Students who are involved in this program must sign a contract with the program's instructor Mr. Morales. They agree to meet with him once a week for homework assignments.

Special Education is another opprtunity for students that are slower in subjects the teacher devotes more time to fewer students.

One other choice that is available to juniors and seniors is the work experience, which many of them benefit from. All students enrolled in this class are employed. They earn money while receiving a grade. They meet once a week with the instructor, Mr. Evans.

A course available to ninth graders is Opportunity. It is offered to those students who are given more individual attention by the instructor, Mr. Tomy.

There are a lot of opportunities for Gunderson students. -Tina Zapata and Cristal Wiley

ADDITION

to the Administration

The newest addition to the administration of Gunderson High occured at the beginning of the 1986 academic year. Mr. John Berney replaced Mr. Bell, who became principal at Leland High School. Mr. Berney came to GHS from Leland. Mr. Berney oversees the A.I.M. program which was implemented in 1985.

Someone familiar to everyone at GHS, but new to the administration was Mr. Bondelie. He replaced Ms. Cabral, who moved onto Lincoln High School. He oversees the student activities.

In his fifth year at Gunderson, Mr. Huffman continues to contribute to the school by striving for academic and athletic excellence.

The administration had several goals this year. They had the task of trying to make the school run smoothly in its first year of closed campus. They have to deal with such issues as getting better facilities, better food, more activities, additional clubs and keeping the campus clean. They have to try and anticipate and attend to all of our needs, which is not easy to do. The administration's main goal is always to provide a safe, clean environment for all students and staff. -Tina Zapata and Kevin Spence

STAFF

School work

It's funny. All our lives we live for the day when we get out of school. Who in their right mind would actually spend the rest of their life in school. The support staff does.

But what is it? Defined by Webster: support (se-port') v.1. to hold up or serve as a foundation. 2. to keep something going.

That is the function of the support staff here at GHS. Everyone on the staff adds something different. Remeber back to March 3. The school was broken into and the computers were smashed, but the clerical workers kept things running smoothly. The janitors, like the school's mothers, clean up after the students make a mess. It's a dirty job but someone's gotta do it. The campus may not be a rose garden, but it's always green thanks to the gardeners.

The support staff may not be very well-known, but what would GHS do without them?

Working the foodlines

Food. It's on everyone's mind around 12:10pm. The only thing you can think about is stopping that growling in your stomach as you wait in the long lunch lines. It's the cafeteria staff who keep those lunch lines moving.

Work begins around 7:30am every morning preparing food for the day. Imagine having to spend all day at work serving and making food and then having to go home and make dinner for your family. It sounds tiring but these ladies really like their job. Living proof of this is Marge Silveira.

Marge has worked here for 11 years. She manages the snack bar. "It's like being a mother to 1800 kids," she says. She loves trying out new things.

"UNIQUE"

"Unique" was the word varsity coach Allison Takaki used to describe this years team. "We were made up of athletes and non-athletes. This was not a problem for us though." Varsity started off the season with a bang smashing San Jose High 6-0, but the bang fizzled and the girls went on to a 3-6-1 record.

Congratulations to junior varsity winning the title league champs! "This years team really clicked" said j.v. coach Jeanine Mestressat. "We mastered the basic skills and worked as a team." Junior varsity started off the season with a tie, but after that no one could stop them. They tied once again with Live Oak and went on to win all league games. "It's totally cool being part of a winning team," said Laurie Rettig, a freshman at Gunderson. J.V. ended the incredible season with a 6-0-2 record.

Field Hockey has become more popular at Gunderson. Win or lose coach Takaki put it best,"Our main objective was to have fun," and I'm sure they did! Field Hockey will definitely have many more exciting years at Gunderson.-Jerrod Maruyama

On The Rise

How does it sound to get up before the crack of dawn? Say maybe 4:30? Well thats what these dedicated swimmers did this year to earn their 5-4 record. Even though this record doesn't sound to impressive, the girls know that they worked hard and they can deffinately can be proud of themselves. The reward was their win against S.T., the winners of C.C.S. Jennifer Miller, Jeanne Hoglund, Kirsten Dalbey, Michelle Mort, Brany Wells, Kari Miller, Joelle Erwig , Julie Brennan, Cynthia Weir, and Kim Henry all qualified for C.C.S., at Stanford. The girls are expected to keep up this outstanding performance. "I think we will be just as strong next year dispite the loss of some excellent Seinor swimmers. There still is much talent returning next year" said Jeanne Hoglund. Freshmen Kirsten Dalbey was a fresh additive to Gunderson's line up. She proved to be a strong leader not only to the team, but to the league also. She was voted Most Valuable Varsity Swimmer. The Diving team is also expecting a promising year next year. With a new coach and the team composed of three Freshmen the season was mainly a building year. "This was my first season I had a fun time. The new coach Ted Laduca made things a lot easier. I'm really looking forward to next season." said Freshmen Alison Mullins. The conclusion of the season left the team with 40 swimmers and 3 divers. And a 6th place finish, out of 11, in league finals. At the banquet most improved in Frosh/Soph went to Deanna Strain, and Esther Vandenhogen and on Varsity it went to Kim Henry. Most dedicated Frosh/Soph swimmers went to Ala Gaidasz, and Nikki Cassero. Congratulations on a great year we're all proud of you.-Lisa Retting

A Stroke of Excellence-Most Valuable Swimmer, Kirsten Dalbey took the STAL league by storm, with 18 first place finishes in league meets.

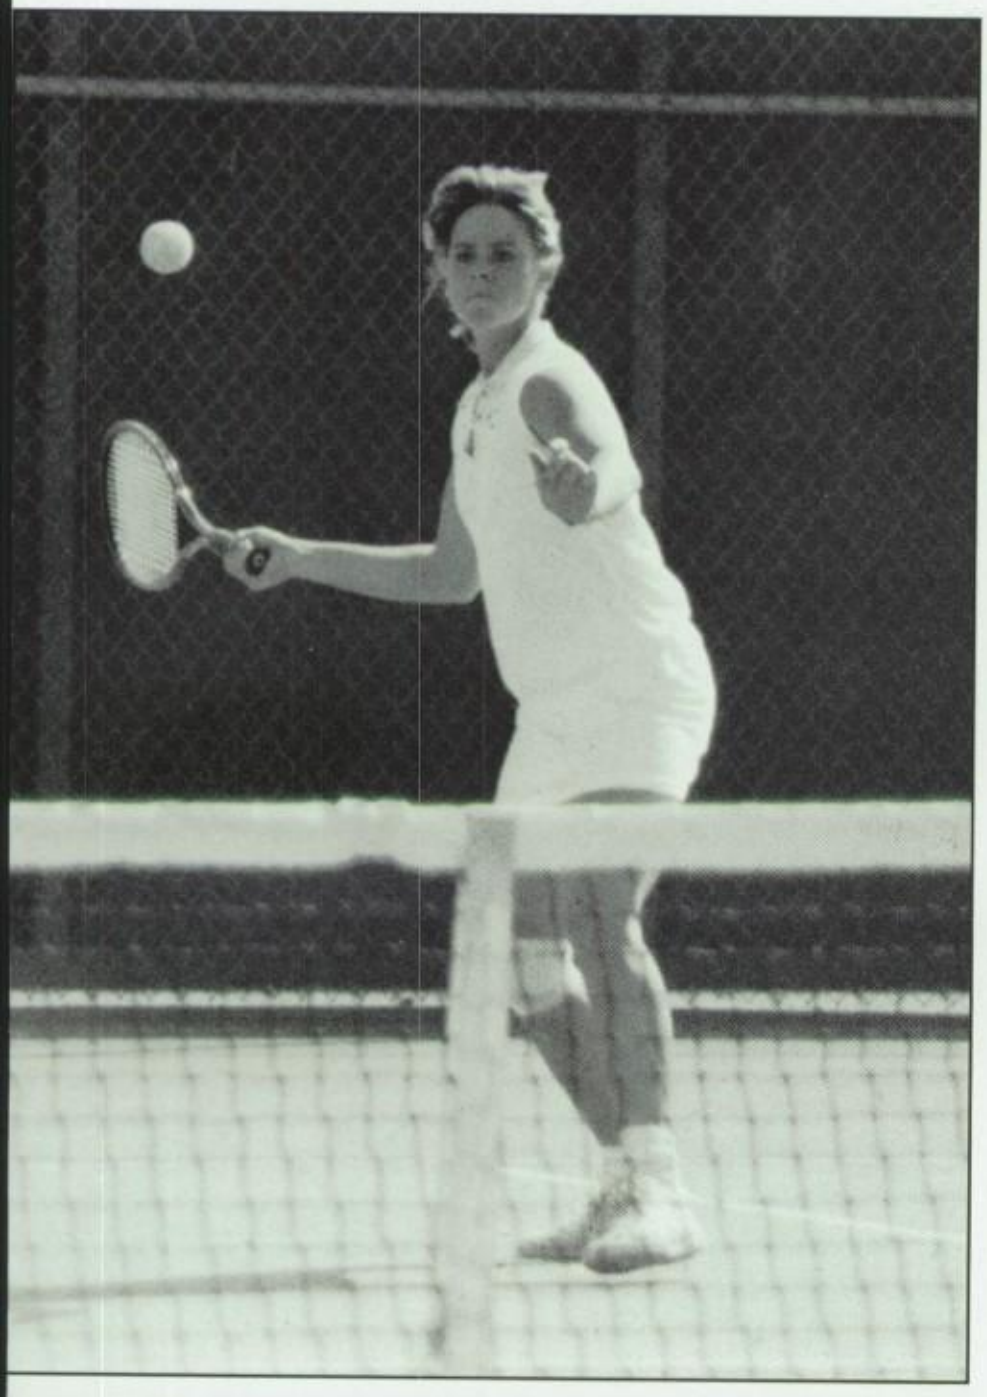
In fine Form

With the look of a determined player, Stephanie Floyd anticipates a winning match.



Talent, experience, commitment, and a good attitude are what it takes to be on the girls tennis team. This year's team topped all previous seasons by setting an overall record of 15-3. The girls placed second in their league, being defeated only by Leland. The majority of the team consisted of returning players, with only six newcomers. However, though the team gained some new players, they were dedicated girls with a positive attitude and helped the team out a great deal. Tammy Robertson, a nationally ranked freshman, played in the number 1 singles spot the entire season. The girls had an outstanding record and the most wins in Gunderson history since they beat Willow Glen in both matches. This year was the first time they have ever defeated Willow Glen, and they will most likely defeat them again next year. As a result of their winning streak, the girls were in the S.T.A.L. playoffs. Tammy Robertson won the singles tournament, while doubles teams Sophie Lambrechts and Julie MacPhie took 3rd, and Isabel Flanagan and Nikki Marks finished 4th. These girls definitely proved their talent as a tennis player! At the end-of-the-season dinner banquet, Coach Kanter awarded a trophy to some of the girls for their commendable effort and dedication. The "Most Valuable Player" trophy was awarded to Tammy Robertson. For Stephanie Floyd's notable record of 16-2, she was awarded the "Best Record" trophy. Stacey Brooks was awarded the "Most Inspirational" trophy because of her encouragement towards her team mates. And finally, Johanna Kwan and Michelle Mallin were awarded "Most Improved Player" trophies for their noticeable improvement. Way to go Grizzlies! This year's girls tennis team proved they could reach their goal and set a new record. With more experience and practice, the girls should have an even better season in '87. -Jennifer Glienke

Meeting The Challenge

This year's Varsity Football team "met the challenge" throughout the entire season. Not boasting great size, a great 5-0 start got the Grizzlies rolling to their fifth straight S.T.A.L. title. The challenge wasn't easy as our guys had to come from behind in all but one of the first five victories.

After our only loss of the regular season the Grizzlies rose to the occasion by posting two shutouts out of the final three victories.

The Grizzlies were fortunate to have the leadership of two First Team All CCS performers in seniors Albert King and Jeff Snyder. Albert is the only two-time CCS football player in Gunderson history. Jeff, a three year starter, made the team as a linebacker.

Other outstanding seniors included First Team All S.T.A.L. players Robert Fryhoff (guard), Luis Gomez (fullback), and Ryan Turner (strong safety). Also, the improved play of seniors Tim Giannosa, Armand Delgado, and Rod Morimoto were instrumental in the Grizzlies success.

The coaching staff has reason to be pleased about next season as there are several key juniors and some fine athletes from the successful Frosh-Soph team ready to meet next year's challenge.

First Team All S.T.A.L. linebacker Scott Kilgore leads the junior class. Greg Burnett, Matt Martinez, Scott Suske, Frank Santos, Mark Wohlford, Dan Buccellato, Eddy Santos, Rod Stoppard, Tony Crivello, and Joey Arena will be ready for the '87 season.

Mark Alsobrook, our lone sophomore on the varsity, will lead a fine contingent of underclassmen. Mark shared quarterback quarterbacking duties with Ryan Turner this year.

It is always sad to see the seniors leave. The coaching staff and student body have been blessed with many fine memories form this great Gunderson team.

Seinor Fullback Louis Gomez, struck fear in the hearts of STAL defenders for the last years.

Senior Jerry Barajas pushes himself beyond the limits, exceeding all expectations.

STAL MVP, Albert King carried the Grizzlies through a smashing season.

WINNING RESULTS

The crowd yells and anxiously rustles around. The score is 12 all. Willow Glen has gained 10 points since Gunderson's last serve. Gunderson gets the ball back and Toshia Manke is up. The gym is suddenly silent. She serves and Willow Glen hits the ball into the net. After Toshia's fifth straight serve, the ball is hit back and forth and into the net by the Grizzlies. Willow Glen serves and once again it's hit into the net by Gunderson...

And so goes a typical day in the life of the Varsity Volleyball players. When someone says volleyball, most people think, "How fun! That's a nice easy sport. All you have to do is bump a ball around." Volleyball is definitely not as easy as it might look. It takes a lot of coordination, skill, and practice. For practice, you start out running two perimeters (one mile) around the soccer field. Then you go to the gym and warm up, next moving on to at least 200 passes, then serving, spiking, and bumping. It's a lot of hard work, but the winning results are worth everything!

Tired after playing countless games all day, our J.V. Volleyball team sets up to play St. Francis Cabrini. The next few games would decide the second and third place teams in the Del Mar Volleyball Tournament. The Grizzlies started well, which was unusual. Franceska Gleason, soph., explains, "We have a horrible tendency to give the other team about six points, then come from behind to win. Playing St. Francis, we started well, but we just got tired." When asked how she felt about placing third, Lisa Rodriguez, soph., replies, "I think we did really good. I think we had a really good team this year and it shows." -Dawn Anton

ON A ROLL

Nothing can describe the extreme a wrestler must fulfill to be on the Varsity Wrestling team. This is one team that devotes themselves entirely to wrestling during the season. They're constantly dieting and trying to maintain a certian weight for their weight class. An average pratice starts with a three to five mile run, some calisthenics and warm-up's, then ends with -of course- some wrestling. These practices usually last about two and a half to three hours. Some people may think they're crazy, but for the wrestlers, it is well-worth those long, hard practices. The team had a spectular season and, once again, dominated the league finishing 24-5 in dual meets. The highlight of their season was defeating rival, Lincoln, at the last dual meet in Lincoln's gym. The Grizzlies won the STAL Championship for the third time in a row this year and lost in League Finals by only four points. League Championship winners were Jack Farage, Phil Burnett, Scott Kilgore, and Mike Cortez. Coach Dominguez felt that the outstanding wrestlers were Jack Farage (18-4), Doug Schell (16-3), Phil Burnett (8-6), Scott Kilgore (18-1), Matt Martinez (11-6), and Mike Cortez (13-9). Although the team will be losing some wrestlers next year, several will be returning to keep the wrestling team strong and dominating. It looks like the Grizzlies are on a roll, so hopefully next year will prove to be as unforgetable as this year!-Jennifer Glienke

UNSUNG HEROES

They didn't wear their jerseys to school on game days. There were no rallies or special events revolved around them. And although they were ranked in CCS and made it to CCS play-offs, no real consideration was given to the 86-87 Boys Varsity Soccer team. The truth is, Gunderson's soccer teams have had some of the best records and standings in CCS, but compared to the other sports at GHS they usually go unnoticed. The team ended the season with a record of 7-2-1, which included a win against Leland. "Beating Leland really was one of the highlights of the year, it was something we really wanted" said senior Tony La Rosa. For the most part the team seemed pleased with the year with one exception, losing in CCS. Despite all the wins during the year this provided a major disappointment for the team. "It was a good year but I really wish we could have done better in CCS," said senior Chris Chapman. Chris Chapman led the team in scoring and also placed third on the Gunderson all time scoring list. Strong playing put Chris and junior Mike Anderson on the CCS all team. When you ask the team members about the year they seem quite hesitant to speak highly of the year, but all who saw this team, knew they were one of the strongest to hit Gunderson.

Making It To The Top

Taking a good team and making them even better, that's what first year coach Chuck Flora did with the 86-87 Boys J.V. Soccer Team. The boys had an outstanding season with seven wins and two losses and one tie. The two losses were to Leland; however, the team hopes for sweet vengeance next season.

With the presence of five juniors and many freshmen the team had a array of different ages. For the freshmen high school soccer provided skills at a much higher level of performance. Freshman Mike Sosa said, "It was a big change since it was more physical than I thought. Nevertheless, it was a lot more fun." Mike led the team in scoring with ten season goals! Aggressive freshman Scott Turner was second in goals produced. Dave Moreshegee stated, "We had a pretty new team but we did a great! All in all it was a real happy season."

Bright Future

After a 10-0 season and losing only two pre-season games. Winning their last game of the season (against San Jose) ended with a score of 68-48, with that final win, and a record like that the Grizzlies were on their way to Toso Pavilion, home of the 1987 Central Coast Section playoffs. The girls didn't just go to C.C.S. they went to the Northern California Championship play-off's (Nor-Cal) but were defeated in their first game by Fremont, and were out of the Tournament. Jill Sperry was held with only 11 points, and Senior Rhonda Jacobs with only 15. "It hurt that we lost but it was great knowing that we had all those fans and support, it really helped us to get our spirits up. And it was great that we got further than we did last year!" says Sophomore Becky Fletcher.

The Girls showed their coach that they weren't to down about losing at Toso, because at around 3:30 A.M. the girls did a great toliet papering job on Mr.Ramezane's house. "It's just our way of saying thanks!" said Fletcher. When asked what their strengths are going to C.C.S, the answer is an immediate, "Jill!" And our opponents knew it ,too, and they held Jill pretty good. This year the Grizzlies were a lot stronger, and they displayed much teamwork. If you just look in the sports section of the San Jose Murcury News you'll most likely see an article on Jill Sperry or the Gunderson Basketball team. Well, Jill's a junior this year, leaving one more year for us to be astounded by her talent. Also with bright futures on Varsity are sophomores Kelli Floyd, Becky Fletcher, Franceska Gleason, and talented freshman Katie Bigelow. If your wondering what the J.V. boys and girls Basketball teams were doing this season, just ask any Grizzly and they'll say "WINNING OF COURSE!" And their scores prove it! The girls had a great season loosing only to Pioneer. The boys lost only to Willow Glen in League play. "Our season went pretty good considering we lost a few players to Varsity, but we gained a lot of new Freshmen players." -says Heidi Shoemaker Sophomore.

Sophomore Gene Palmer says, "We had a new coach (Todd) he's young and inthusiastic, he really took the time to show us the game." If anything Gunderson should be complimented for their sports program we have team spirit, dedication, and the will to do our best, and Gunderson's Junior Varsity Basketball teams displayed just that. -Leslie McClung

Grizzlies Endure Up and Down Season

After what seemed like a long season our Grizzlies ended the year with a 14-11 record placing them third in league rankings. Though this was no record breaking season it was made up of both exciting wins and losses. "It was a learning experience of a tough season," said senior Steve Glasper. "There was a lot of talent but we couldn't make all the pieces fit." The words used to describe the past season was Anthony Moore, senior, "average but respectable". "We went through a lot of problems but it was a good experience." Inconsistency seemed to be the only consistent part of the season. It both began and ended with losses, but in between consisted of exciting victories over Lincoln, Willow Glen, and who can forget Steve Glaspers last second shot beating Leland in a dramatic win.

1987 marked the final year of coaching at Gunderson for varsity coach, Ed Ravenscroft. Ravenscroft, who has coached at Gunderson for five years, said he was leaving his coaching position to help his son with his basketball before he enters Harker Academy this fall. Ravenscroft said he feels he's accomplished everything he wanted to at Gunderson.

"More fans for next years season" said soph.Lawrence Sweeney. Though the stands at every game weren't always filled the team hopes next year will bring more spirit to basketball games both at and away Gunderson. -Jarred Maruyama

Winning Combination

They've been called "possible league winners" in the past. This years J. V. boys are on their way to the top.

"This combination of freshmen, sophomores and juniors have shown to be more than just a great gruop of guys doing their job," said Coach Santos. There's a tremendous amount of talent and coordination amoung these fellows. Their current 6-3 record shows just that.

They're noted for their superior pitching staff. Led by juniors Greg Folla and Eric "Colemaster" Coleman and sophomore Colin Boyd.The hitting staff showed-off their guns and led this team to numerous victories. A few deserving mentions are Chris Sousa (center field) Todd Orman(catcher) and Chris Amos(short stop).

A mutal feeling amoung teammembers seemed to be that a little more pulling together could really slam thsi team into "All league". With that tought in mind, there's nothing stopping this team from making it to the top. Kerri Santos

JV Softball

JV has a good season

Right On!

This year the Varsity Baseball team is coming on strong and looking to win the STAL . As defending league champions, they are currently 6-2 and in second place behind Leland. The team is very experienced, consisting of seven seniors and five three-year varsity players. These players, Ryan Turner, Lou Magallon, Steve Bittick, Ron Perez, and Dean Lewis, are looked upon to lead the team to CCS. When the baseball rankings came out in the Mercury News, Gunderson was ranked 8th, but suffered a loss to Leland since then, and dropped to 11th. They have some of the best talent in the CCS and once they start working together, BEWARE, the STAL Championship is near! -Joe Quirk

The team will have to continue to receive good play from veterans Donna Davis, Chris Sobczyn, and Susan Shapiro as well as improvement from rookies Kim Howard and Joele Erwig. Two promising Freshmen Katy Bigelow and Jenny Silvey as well as utility players Kellie Sneddon and MaryJane Farthing make up the rest of this outstanding team. Coach Newman

Running to CCS!

The 1986-87 Grizzly Track Team is back in the race toward C.C.S. again even though C.C.S. takes individuals, every Grizzly has a shot to reach the top. They won the STAL opening relay race which was held at Leland. Celest Brown gave her thoughts by tellling us her goal was to get to the State Meet this year. Celeste is one of the top girls on the team. Also, Shawna August, Dana Farag, Isabel Flannagan, Becky Kozak are spirited runners who also hope to get to the state meet. Having fun on the job is not hard for a bunch of varsity members. They include Cornel Davis, Jeff Headrick, Scott Kilgore, Al King, David Nevel, and Mark Wolford. Al King says - he feels this is one of the funnest and strongest teams since he has been here at Gunderson. The Coaching Staff is very supportive of the whole team. Thanks for everything Coach Hernandez, Coach Montenegro, Coach Faltz, and Coach Tardieu. If the coaches have always had faith in their teams, but this year their hopes are even higher. GETTING INTO
The Swing of Things

As the El Oso goes to press, the 1987 boys' tennis team has clinched at least a tie for the League Championship by defeating Leland 4 - 3. The team, which has won all 14 of their league matches with only a loss of two non - league games, is lead by two nationally ranked players. Freshmen Brian MacPhie and Senior Eric Sasao are both undefeated after 16 matches. Coach Paul Kanter, who scheduled an ambitious 20 match season, has also received outstanding play from Junior Dave Colombo and Senior Tom Bridges. The Senior - dominated team is considered one of the top ten teams in the Central Coast Section.- Dawn Anton

Rising to the Occasion

Do you remember last years diving team? What? You say you don't remember? Well, of course not. There wasn't one. For the past few years Gunderson has not had a diving team. This year a diving team was started by Mr.Beck, which enabled some students to show their diving skills, or to learn new techniques. This years team consisted of seven young men. Five Freshmen, and two Juniors, that were very enthusiastic and showed their team spirit. The key was diver Kent Paradis. This dedicated team puts in an hour and a half of pratice every week day, and had a meet every Thursday. When asked about the strenous work-outs Mike Matagulay said, "The pratices are just right." The pratices seemed to pay off for the diving team because they started the season off with a 2 - 0 record beating both Willow Glen, and Bellarmine.

The diving team wasn't the only new thing out on Gunderson's pool deck this year. There was also Dave Auchard, the new boys swimming coach. Before coaching here he coached Leland's swim team for 3 years.

One word used to describe the 1987 season for the boys swim team was "rebuilding". After losing many excellent swimmers of years past, the coach is trying to emphasize direction and structure on the younger swimmers for the benefit of future seasons. Some of the teams key swimmers were Doug Weir (Jr.), and Dave Kiggins (Sr.), and Steve Martinez. Daily workouts were from about 2:00 - 4:00 and definately worked to develop the quality of years before. - Jennifer Glienke, and Tina Zapata

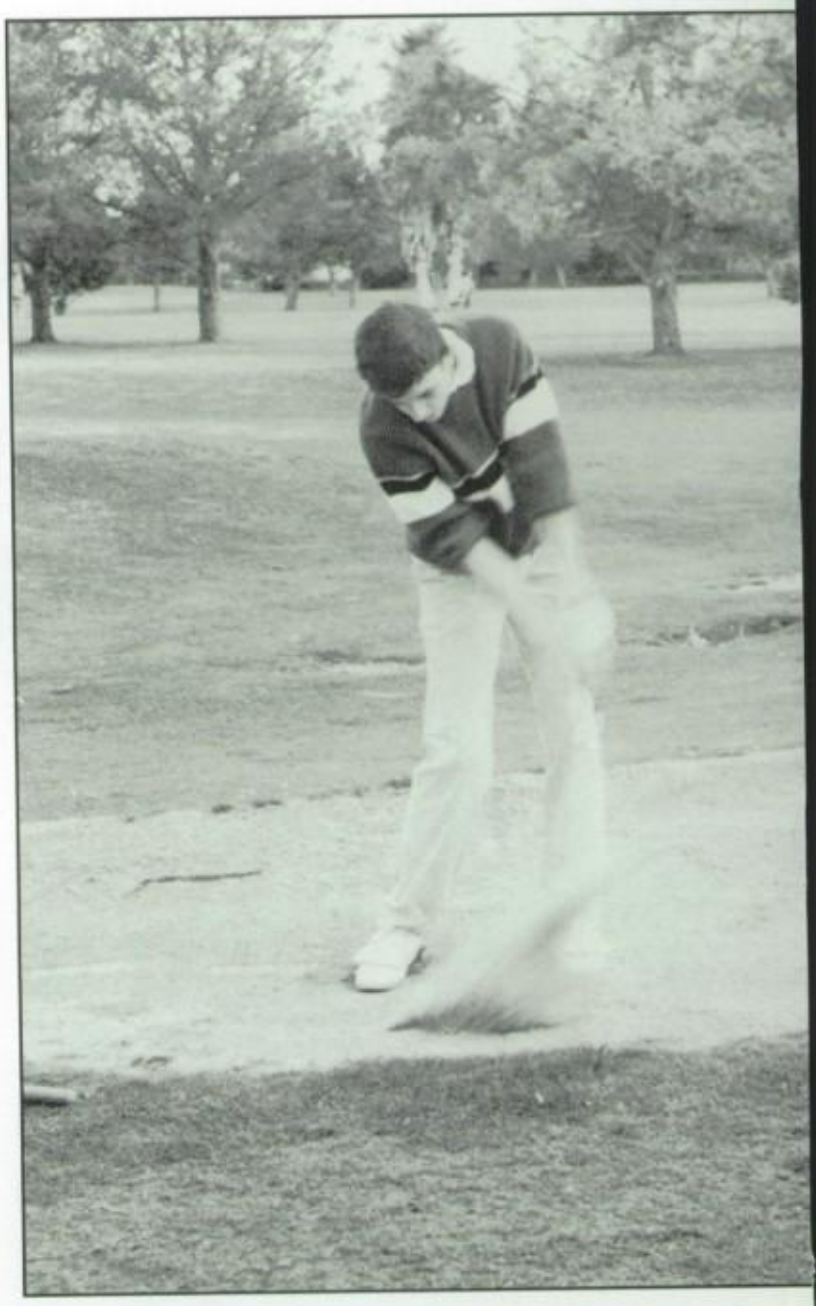
ONE PUTT BEYOND

Jeff Scales blasting out of the sand



This years golf team started out strong but suffered a setback. Oakridge Golf Course, where the team pratices, closed and since then the team has had trouble finding a pratice course. They have remained strong but need improvement in hope of gaining a berth in the region playoffs. Team leaders, Chris Helling and Mark Bragga, are looking towards going to C.C.S. and finishing the season. The future will be tough if a pratice course is not found but they are young and coming on strong with Varsity winning their first two matches and Junior Varsity winning their first three. The Grizzly golfers are definite contenders for the STAL Championship. - Joe Quirk

Caged In?

An unexpected change came to this year's Juniors, as well as the rest of the students. This year, as lunchtime came around, people were seen rushing to the food lines rather than out to their cars and off to lunch. As Juniors, one one of the aspects that we were looking forward to, now that we had the transportation, was the oppournity to be able to leave the campus for lunch. Unfortunately, our expectations weren't fulfilled. This was the first year Gunderson experienced a closed campus; therefore, we were here to stay. "It was really frustrating. After two years of an open campus and no transportation, we came into our Junior year knowing that we couldn't leave." Greg Folla, Junior. If it was the craving for some fastfood, or just the opportunity to get off campus for a half an hour, everyone enjoyed the priveledges of open campus. "It was just the idea that we could leave if we wanted to, no matter what the reason." Michelle Griffin Junior. "If high school's supposed to be preparing us for the "real world", you'd think they wouldn't keep seventeen year olds caged in." Marci Fritz, Junior. -Jennifer Glenkie, Lisa Rettig.

Tourist Day U.S.A.

Disneyland, Palm Springs, Hollywood, San Francisco, Venice Beach, Santa Cruz...these and many other famous sites were found all over the G.H.S. campus on Tourist Day '86. This year, the Junior class decided to dress "tourist style" for their Homecoming spirit day. The student body was seen wearing anything from bermuda shorts, Donald Duck t-shirts, Mickey Mouse ears, sunglasses, huaraches, Hawaiian shirts, binoculars, tennies, and buttons. Lugging their suitcases from class to class, and snapping many pictures along the way the tourists tried their best not to get lost by using their trustee maps. The Juniors decided to give each tourist their own map of the transformed "California campus." whether eating at the Hard Rock Cafe, strolling along the Boardwalk, walking down Sunset boulevard, or meeting friends at Union Square, everyone knew where they were with the help of the colorful signs posted around the campus. At lunchtime, the tacky tourists gathered on Catalina Island (plaza) for an hour of fun in the sun. The activities included "Don Ho says" (Simon says) and "Pinapple Toss" (waterballoon toss). This day proved to be a huge success and the highlite of the Homecoming Spirit week.

Sweet 16

A giant surprise party,lots of friends,an appointment at the DMV to get your liscense,and a red sportscar in your hand! That's the picture perfect idea everyone has for their sixteenth birthday. Some people are lucky and may get the whole routine of a perfect sixteenth birthday. Others may just have a small get together,and get to drive their parents car, which is just fine also. Either way, your sixtheenth year should be a special one. Don't let anyone spoil that time for you. Happy Sixtheenth Everyone, and Good Luck!

Drivers Training

A new breed of driver's will hit the road this year thanks to the Cal St. Requirements course! Sophomores are required to have 1 semester of Driver's training and 1 semester of Social Studies. The sound of keys rattling in pockets and new cars arriving in our parking lot is all a part of the fun about being a Sophomore. Through the course, students recieve their driver's perments after taking written test. Next, depending on when the student turns 16, he or she is required to take "Behind the Wheel." This usually lasts 3 days, each for around 45 minutes per day. They're are many faculity members which take the students in the car to get evaluated. So,next time your on the road watch out for the class of '89! We're off and driving...-Michelle Mallin

Two years to go

What do you think when you get up in the morning? SCHOOL! Everyone has to go through the same ritual day in and day out of going to school monday through friday during the school year. And what do Sophomores think about? Relaxing with friends on the weekends but thats not all we think about we think about how much fun we're going to have our up-coming year's at Gunderson as Junior's of course, but becomeing Junior's isn't everything it's becomeing Seinor's that really matters although not being considered an underclassmen is a big relief to some of us (former) Sophomores. But unfortunately, SCHOOL is going to be coming to our minds every morning for our Junior and Senior years. But hey look on the bright side of things we only have two more years to go!-Leslie McClung.

HOMECOMING

...and the winner is the Freshmen float! Suprisingly enough the Freshmen won best float this year at Gunderson's tenth homecomeing games. After a lot of hard work at president Stephanie Balchs house we came out with a winning float. It's been since the Seinors won best float their Freshmen year that Freshmen have won. But the float wasn't the only winner here. Two freshmen from John Muir Middle school won prince and princess. Kerri Santos and Matt Salmon. Homecoming is a great oppourtunity that Freshmen have looked forward to since Middle School,and something we'll look forward to our Sophomore, Junior, and especially our Senior year.-Heather LaVigne

SPORTS

From Football to Field Hockey, Soccer to Volleyball, freshmen sports opportunities are endless. There's swimming, track, softball, waterpolo and basketball, just to name a few more. Aside from basketball, most of these sports are new to freshmen. Most of us play on J.V.teams but some of us are good enough to play Varsity. Being in a sport usually means you'll have sixth period P.E. when your team practices. When your sport isn't in season, you get to go home after fifth period ends, another 'significant' opportunity! Aside being fun and an opportunity, sports give freshmen a chance to promote Gunderson spirit!-Patti Brownlee

STUDENT GOVERMENT

A new year means a new freshmen government. Many incomeing ninth-graders who were involved in class government in their previous school years looked forward to this maybe even more than holidays or friday nights. To them, government was a chance to get involved in activities and a fair shot to get their opinions in important events. Only a few could be chosen to represent the Freshmen class but the few that were, showed their talents in leadership and decision making with flying colors.-Kerri Santos.

CLASSES

Classes,classes and more classes. What does a Freshmen do? Do you take French or Spanish,P.E. or a sport,art or home ec. Many Freshmen at Gunderson were stuck with that very same question. Nancy Murray, a freshmen at Gunderson, said she was surprised at the amount of classes offered to Freshmen. You can take a foreign Language,Science or even a yearbook class. Luckily we have three years to try and take all the classes we would like.-Jerrod Maryayama

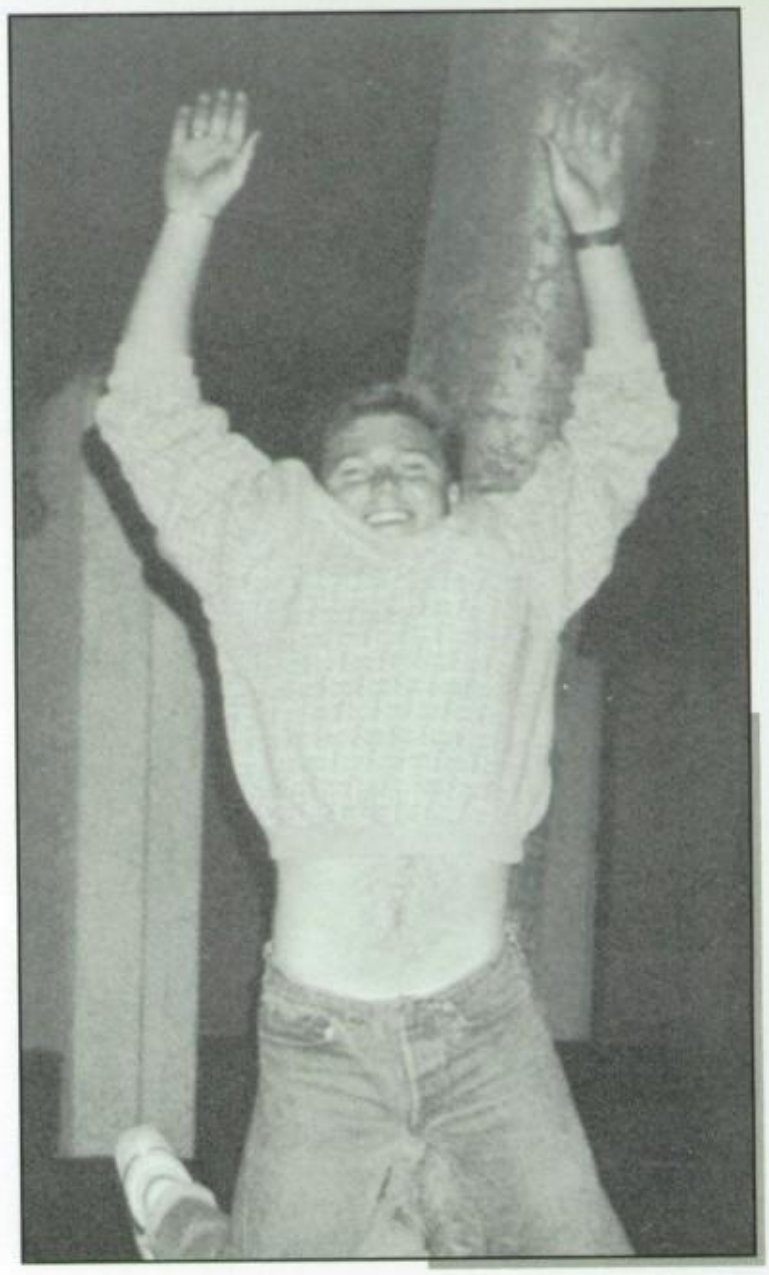
MINI MAG

Grizzlies fight for the ball all season!

WHAT?!

Well just what is Soy-Sauce and what is it doing in YOUR yearbook? That's easy, it's your very own Grizzly Magazine! It's full of fun little pictures and articles that we just couldn't find a spot for anywhere else. Most of these articles have been changed to represent a slightly different way of looking at Gunderson and at life. So don't get mad if you happen to get picked on or teased - WE LOVE YOU and we want to spend the rest of our lives without you. So remember in England BECK is a small stream; in Scotland it's a BURN. Onto the show soyburger breath...



Troy Reynods likes to sit on trees after eating a soyburger for lunch. (Notice it's dark and he still feels ill.)

MUSIC

Music is a way of life for many students at Gunderson. A way of self expression and a way of making the school day bearable. The studetns here also use music in many ways to get involved in school activities. This fall KMEL held a contest to win a free concert played at the winning school by a popular band "The Jets." This contest led to an enormous union of students organizing and trying to win. Though they failed, the studetns made many new friends and had a lot of jun during the attempt. The school administrators have also tried using music as a way of making the day more bearable for the students. With closed campus, the lunch hour can seem pretty doldurm. Because of this, the school purchased a DJ. system and held auditions for DJ.'s. The student DJ's now play popular music every day at lunch in the plaza. The students can now enjoy laying outside in the sun listening to some hip mixes of their favorite songs. -Rod Stoddard

Matt Podkomorski loves it when the DJ's play SOYfinger.

Maybe Monkee Mania has gotten out of hand...or was it that special ingredient in the burgers?

I don't know you... Write a caption for these midnight breath holders

TRENDS

If the trend is to be different, where does the circle end? It doesn't, so we suggest you be yourselves and not worry about anybody else- we do have some tips on next years trends if you want to get a jump on it.

1. Juice Harps
2. Yellow Overalls
3. Sailor Shirts
4. Velcro Bra Straps
5. Sand Boxes
6. SOYbean parties (B.Y.O.S.)
7. Scuba Hats
8. Barney Rocketship
9. Slide Rulers (colored)
10. Courderoy Underwear

Cool-cool-ultra-cool these students know what's right for them-NO BURGERS.

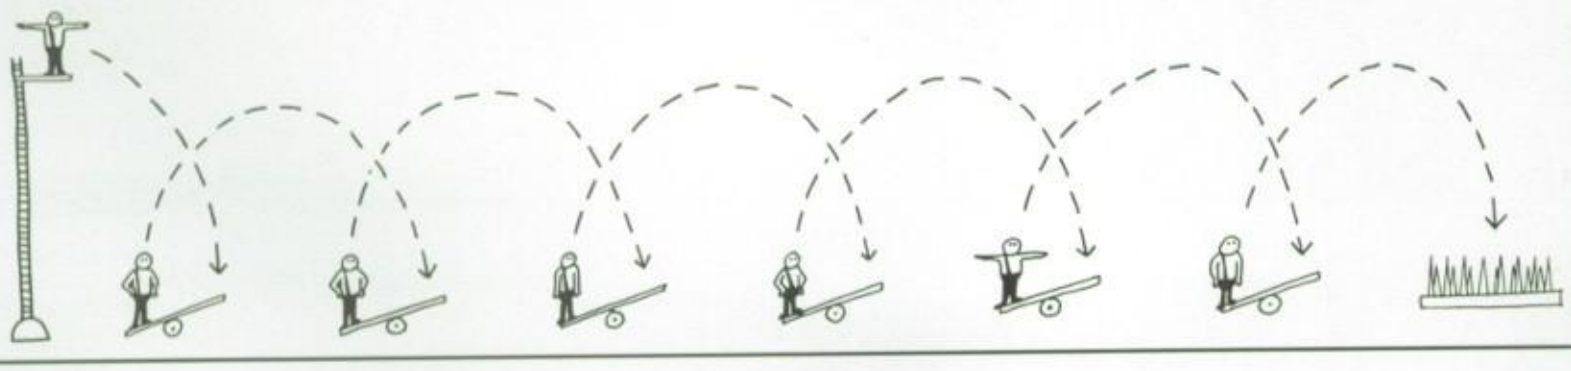
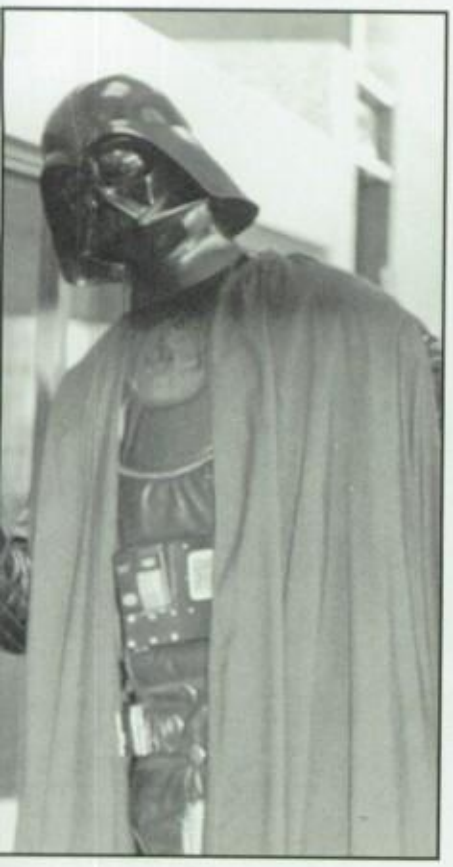
Life Stinks

When you get the hic-ups and your friend tells you to hold your breath and count to a million.

When you get a call to be the poster boy for National Sasquatch Week.

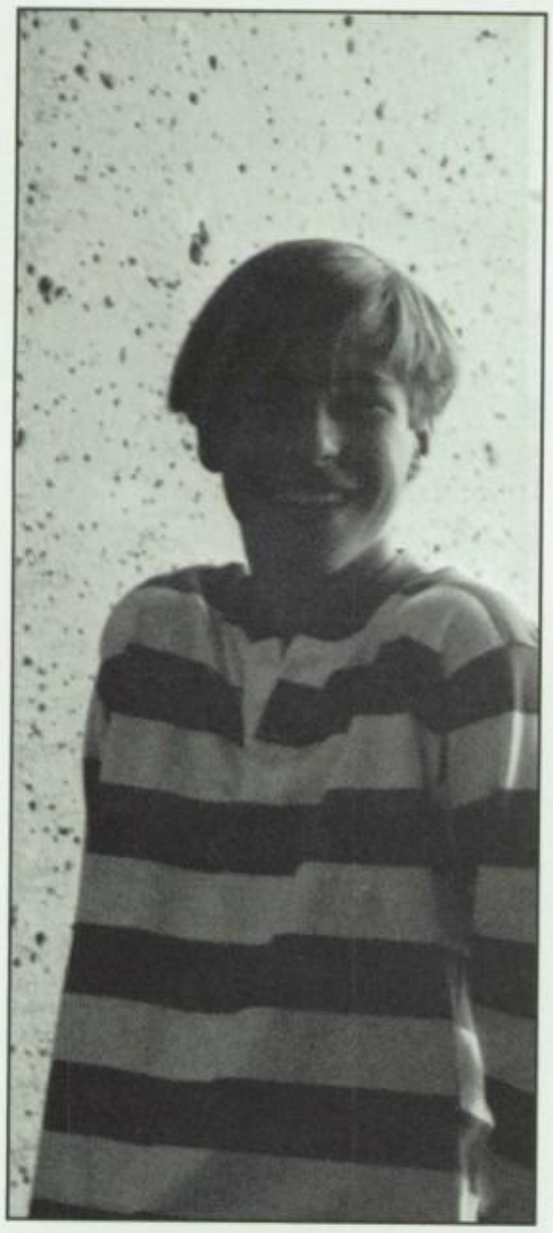
When your parents claim that you make them into hypocondriacs because everytime they see you, it makes them sick.





Remember when you used to meet on Friday and Saturday nights at Wiener Dog to decide what you wanted to do? Well now there's always a police officer there. (He has the mentality of a brick.) We think the cops gotta go! We have our rights LET'S GET HIM! -Kevin Spence

The North American polyphemus moth can be considered the all-time champion eater of the world. In its first 48 hours of life it will consume 86,000 times its weight at birth. In human terms, this means that an eight-pound infant would need to consume 344 tons of formula in its first two days of life.



"Man that guy is weird, he kicks you out before you're even done eating."

FRESHMAN STUD
We don't know why (he's lying we all know it's the car) but Herbie Fitzgerald has tremendous influence with the freshman ladies.

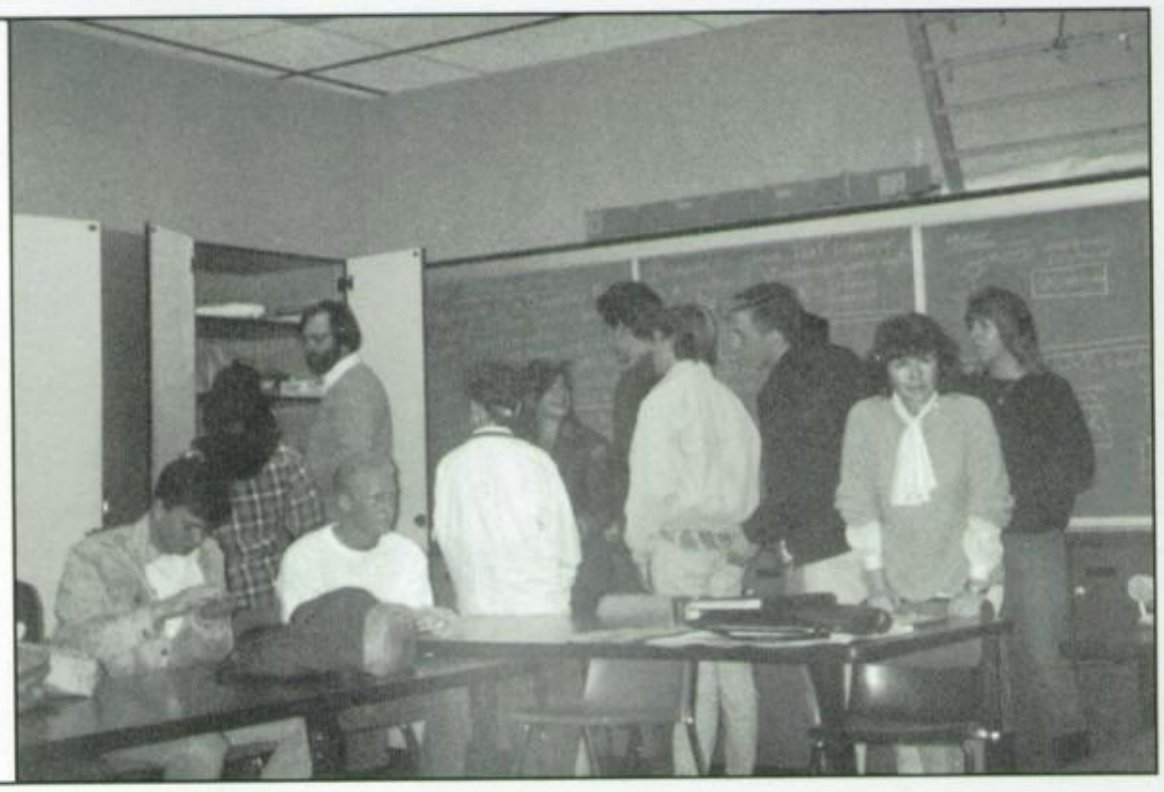
Lean On Me

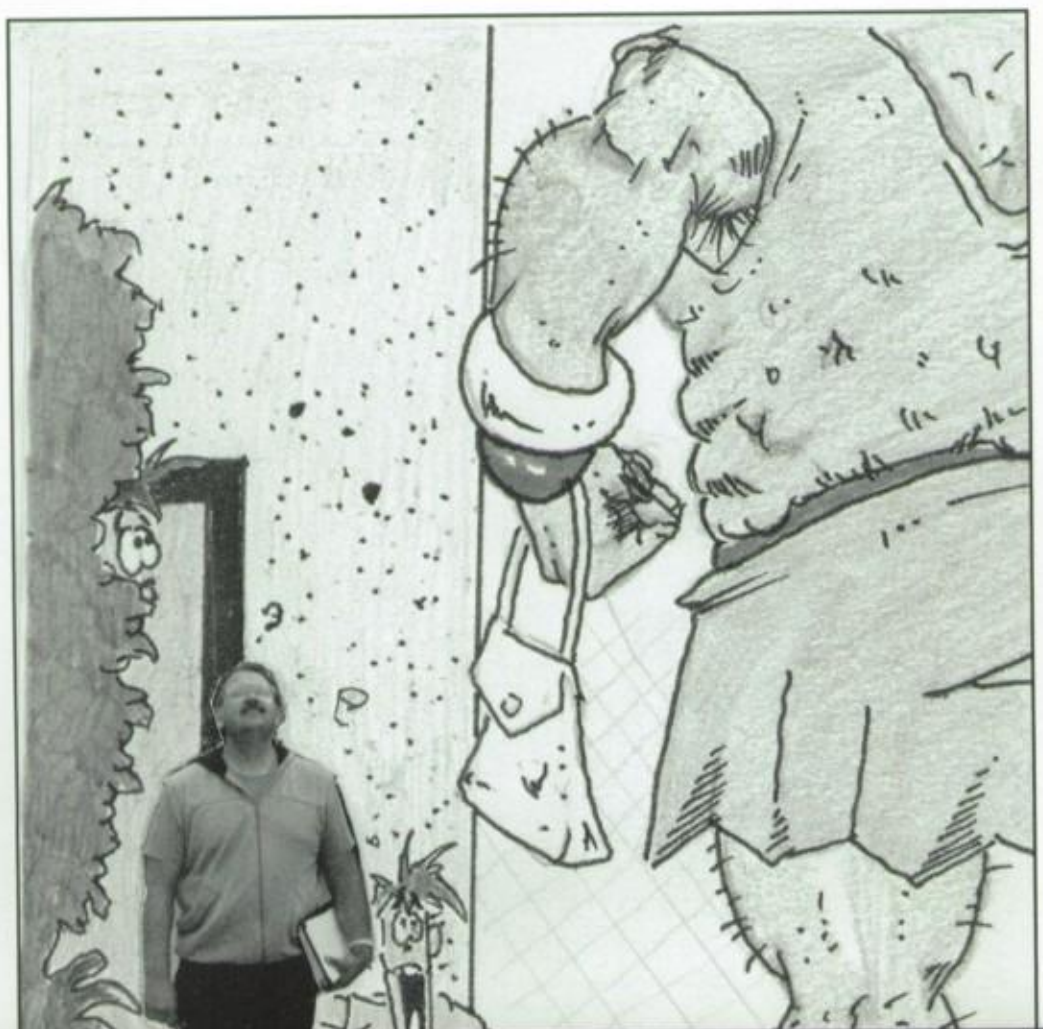
Peer Counseling planted its roots in the foundation of Gunderson soil this year. With strong leadership by Mr. North and Mrs. Wadley, Gunderson put together an organization where kids help kids in need. So as not to sound trite, I won't use the term "huge success" even though it was. In fact Peer Counseling was the best experience I had at Gunderson- So check it out. Sorry this sounds corny but the room is on fire.

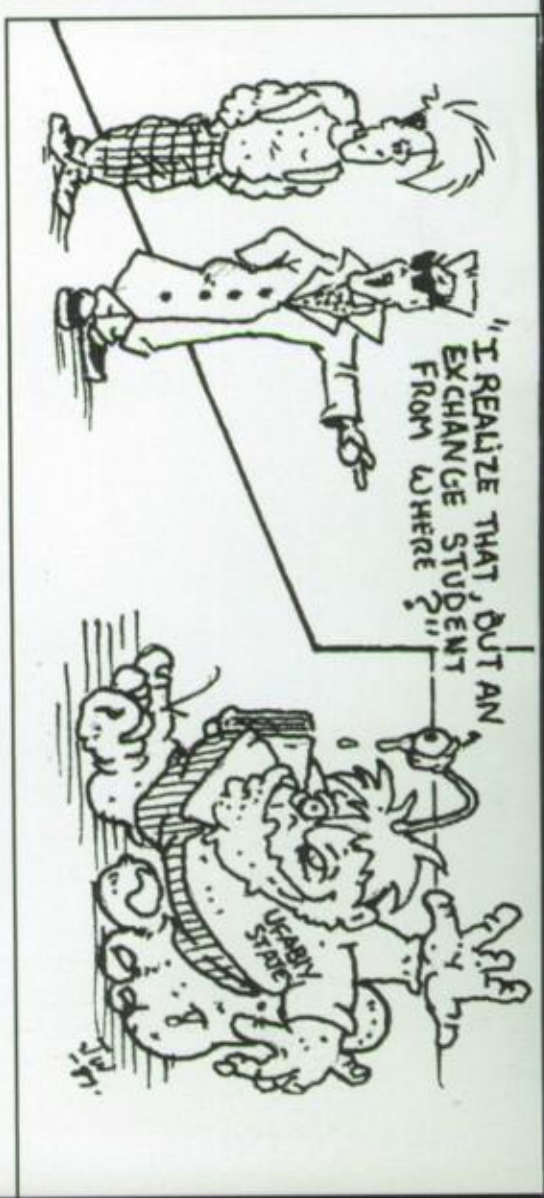


Reward

LOST. Two pairs of sweat socks in the vicinity of the girls locker room. Greyish black color. Sentimental value only. Contact Mr. Hernandez.

"Oh by the way honey, have you seen my gym socks?"





REPELLING ANTS

A piece of soft white chalk will repel ants. Use it to draw a heavy mark around the edge of your table or eating area. Keeps most crawlers away, too.—Tom R. Kovach.

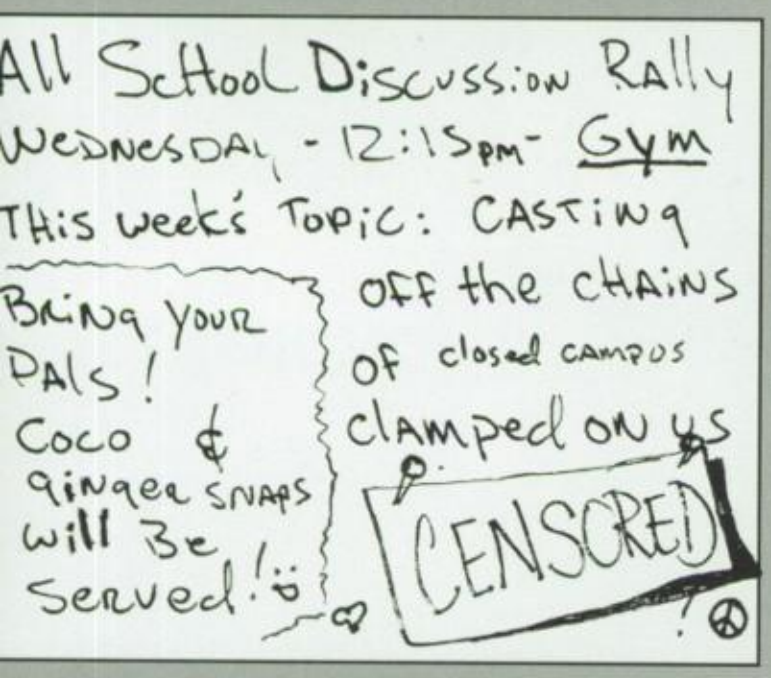
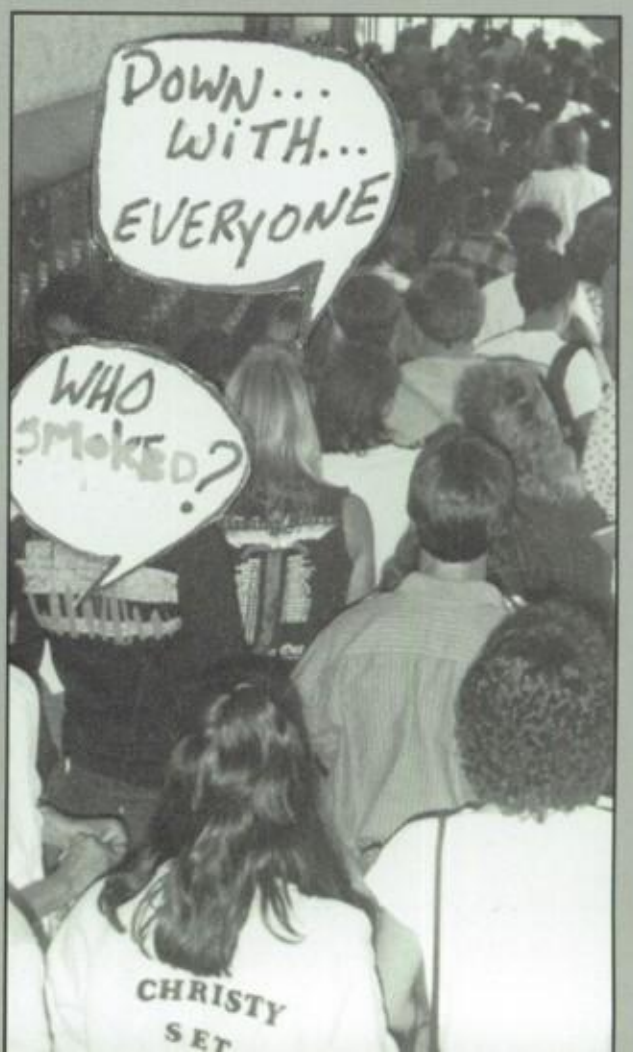
Weekly Meetings Held



Massive Turnouts!

Our brothers rallied on Nov. 3 in the gym. (over 1,100 attended.)

As seen at left- three scenes of oppression during the reign of the 1987 school board.



On Jan. 25, more than 1900 brothers massed at lunch so they moved outside for more oxygen. (Soyburgers give most people gas.)

Close by the door he paused to stand, as he took his class ring off her hand.
All who were watching didn't dare to speak,
as a silent tear rolled won his cheek.
All though his mind the memories ran,
of the moments they laughed and walked in the sand.
But now her eyes were so terribly cold, he'd never again have her to hold.
They all watched in silence as he bent down near,
to whisper "I LOVE YOU" in her ear.
He touched her face and started to cry,
he put on his ring and wanted to die.
And just as the wind began to blow,
they lowered her casket into the snow.
This is what happens to many alive,
When friends let friends drink and drive!

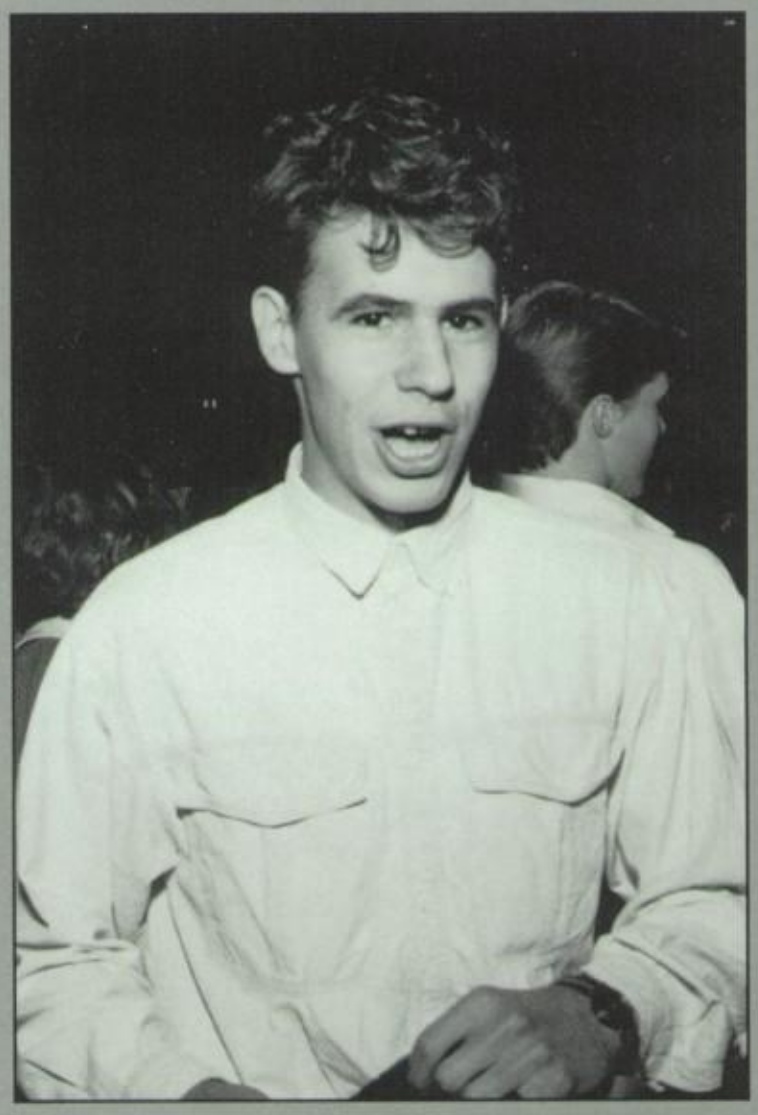
Gunderson Blood Drive is a SUCCESS!!!

Top right: The blood drive was held in memory of Shelly McKuhen. Shelly unfortunately passed away last June.

Left: Students who participated were very appriciated.

Right and Bottom: Mr. Bernie also took part in the Blood Drive.



The 1986-87 school year has been filled with many memorable events. The members of the El Oso staff have tried to capture these memories in this yearbook. Memories such as Homecoming, Spirit week, dances and rallies, as well as those such as grades, finals and A.I.M. Together, as a school we have experienced the victories as well as the defeats. We hope that when you look back at this school year you will be able to see the unique quality that makes Gunderson so special. It is easy to see why Gunderson is so "popular" and in "demand".

Shannon,

It was nice getting to know you better. You're a very nice person with a lot going on you. I can already tell your going places. I wish you all the luck in the world in your marriage to Michael. Even though I don't know him, he seems like a terrific guy. I can't believe we have only 2 days left. English and Psychology were much funner with your stories and pictures. I bet it would of been a drag otherwise. I hope you have the greatest life! You deserve the best!

Keep in touch,

Love Lisa Green
